U.S. Bombers Trying Out Top-Of-World Base As Eurasia-Strike Springboard

By ELTON FAY

THULE, AIR FORCE BASE, Greenland (AP)—B-36 bombers of the United States Air Force already are beginning to try out this new air base at the top of the world as a springboard for strikes at Eurasia should Russian turn to war.

A half dozen of the far-ranging B-36s have come in here during recent months, it now may be disclosed, from their home bases 3,000 miles away in the United States.

Here at this northern tip of Greenland is the northernmost of the chain of bases operated by the Northeast Air Command.

And only 1,700 miles away on a direct line, describing an arc over the polar ice, is the coast line of the Russian mainland with munitions-making cities and the capital lying a few hours beyond.

Nearer are such potential Soviet bases as the islands of Novaya Zemlya and Franz Joseph land from which the Reds could launch thtir own strikes with hydrogen, atomic or conventional bombs against North American cities and the string of Arctic air fields which form the northern bastion.

But this powerful air base in the ice and rocks of the Arctic is much more than a springboard for the 12,000-mile range B-36s.

It brings Russia in a retaliatory bombing war within range of the swift-flying B-47 jet bombers or the older piston-engined B-29s and B-50s.

All three types of the medium bombers have operated into and out of Thule either in routine training operations of experimentally.

HARMON AIR FORCE BASE, Nfld. (AP)—For the fighting men of three nations Soviet bombers bound for American target cities may be coming over the northern horizon an hour from now.

Gone are the days of polite pretense and diplomatic double-talk about a mythical enemy, "an unfriendly foreign power" or a "potential aggressor."

The name is Russia. And for the airmen and ground soldiers and Navy men who are manning and building bases of the Northeastern Command defense system the danger is real and imminent.

News correspondents starting out on an inspection trip of the Northeast Command area where the United States, Canada and Denmark's Greenland have created mutual defense sensed immediately a change from a year ago when a similar visit was made.

Last year U.S. briefing officers used careful, oblique language in talking to newsmen about the reason for the defensive-offensive capabilities of the military area on which millions have been spent in urgency. But not this year. Now the words and maps are frank.

Heartland Targets

On the chart board of the briefing room is a polar projection map of the Northern hemisphere. And sketched boldly on it are the industrial heartland target areas of the United States —and of Russia. Between them run grim black lines tracing across the polar cap, the short path for bombers.

Another map distributed to the newsmen shows, ominously for the Soviet Union, the easy flying miles from the new U.S. base at Thule near the northern tip of Greenland to the cities of a Russia which might choose to make war. Look how Soviet cities would come well within the reach of long-range, heavy bombers of the USAF using Thule as a springboard: 2,400 miles to Moscow, only 1,626 to the Red Arctic port of Murmansk, 2,027 to Leningrad.

The primary elements of the Northeastern Defense Command are seven main bases (with other smaller supporting installations) spotted along the leagues of wasteland of Arctic and subarctic North America and Greenland.

Lincoln, Omaha On Probable Target List

No Nebraska Cities Named As 'Critical' Areas In Defense Report

WASHINGTON (AP) — Lincoln and Omaha, Neb., were among 193 American cities which the government listed Thursday night as probable targets of atomic attack.

The Federal Civil Defense administration disclosed the official list for the first time.

The list was issued—six weeks after Russia reported its mastery of the hydrogen bomb—to spur the nationwide home defense effort.

Seventy "critical" target areas, including centers of industry and the nation's capital, were named.

The critical targets listed embrace a population of 67,750,982.

The list supersedes one adopted, but never made public, on Feb. 4 of last year. The defense agency sent the 1952 list only to governors and to state and city civil defense directors. It requested that all copies of the old list be destroyed by burning.

The new document adds three "critical" targets to the old one: Binghamton, N. Y., Evansville, Ind., and the Wilkes-Barre-Hazleton area of Pennsylvania which have grown industrially.

All capitals of states, territories and possessions are named, but not as critical targets unless they are industrially important. Other cities having 50,000 population or more are grouped in the non-critical bracket.

In a foreward, it added:

"The capabilities of modern weapon of mass destruction are so great that a successful attack would cause damage and casualties far beyond the resources of any area.

"Also, this list does not include all possible targets for biological or chemical attack. This type of attack could be employed against any part of the country, rural as well as urban.

"Therefore, the resources of the entire country outside the listed target areas, as well as within them must be mobilized for civil defense."

Rev. Hubbell Accepts East Lincoln Post

The Rev. T. V. Hubbell of 3025 South has accepted the associate ministership of East Lincoln Christian Church.

He will deliver his first sermon Sunday morning speaking on "God Deeper in Service."

Rev. Hubbell

Rev. Hubbell, a native of Hastings, is the third generation of Hubbells to preach in the state representing 125 years of ministry in Nebraska.

He is a graduate of Cotner University and has taken post graduate work at Denver University.

He has served churches in Everest, Plainville, Auburn and Humboldt, Neb., Hiawatha, Kan., and Denver. For four years he has been state evangelist in Nebraska. Three parsonages and three churches have been constructed under his ministry.

The Rev. Raymond L. Alber, pastor of East Lincoln Christian Church, said Rev. Hubbell's responsibilities will be mostly in the evaneglistic field.

Mrs. Hubbell is now pastor at Brock Christian Church and their son Tod Jr. is pastor at Broken Bow, Neb.

Reclamation Bureau Funds Cut $9 Million

WASHINGTON (AP)— A cut of $9,556,931 in money available for reclamation work between now and next June 30 was announced Thursday.

Secretary of the Interior McKay said that amount has been placed "in reserve" by the Budget Bureau as an economy step to meet requests by President Eisenhower for reduced spending.

McKay said the amount in "reserve" is "not a hard and fast item." He explained that it can be changed "as the reclamation program is periodically reviewed" between now and next June 30.

The amounts placed "in reserve" and totals originally available for various projects included:

Operation and maintenance — North Platte, Wyoming - Nebraska, $63,116 reserved from $361,316; Rapid City, S. D., $2,695 from $7,695; Missouri River Basin, $100,000 from $2,800,233.

Construction and Rehabilitation —Missouri River Basin; Buford-Trenton Unit, S. D., $187,0000 from $300,000; Heart Butte Unit, N. D., $150,000 from $330,000; Missouri Diversion Unit, Mont., $1,400,000 from $2,000,000; Rapid Valley Unit, S. D., $75,000 from $4,300,000 and Webster Unit, Kan., $500,000 from $5,000,000.

Hot Spell May Get Ousted; Rain, Cool Temps Seen Today

Several spots in Nebraska received traces of rain Thursday night, which gave some support to the weatherman's prediction that the current hot spell might be on the way out—for the time being, anyway.

Most of the state underwent an attack from the sun Thursday, but the prospects for today are more pleasant.

Friday's forecast calls for much cooler temperatures to follow scattered showers in the east and south portions. High readings are expected to hit 65 in the northwest and 80 in the southeast.

Receiving non-measurable precipitation Thursday night were Burwell, Grand Island, Imperial, Lexington, North Platte, Omaha, Sidney and Valentine.

Lincoln had received no moisture as of early Friday morning.

Lincoln recorded the highest temperatures Thursday, 99 in the downtown area and an even 100 at the airport.

Other high marks were Omaha 94, Grand Island 97, Lexington 94, North Platte 91, Imperial 93 and Norfolk 98.

High Court Candidate

Federal Circuit Judge Orie L. Phillips, Denver, mentioned as a possible nominee to fill the vacancy on the United States Supreme Court left by the death of Chief Justice Vinson, joined President Eisenhower Thursday on a short fishing trip and set rumors flying. White House aids told newsmen not to make too much of Phillips' presence on the trip. Judge Phillips told reporters, "This is no time for me to talk." (AP Wirephoto Thursday Night.)

111 Allied Pilots Still Prisoners

Gen. Anderson Claims

SEOUL (Friday) (INS)—Lt. Gen. S. E. Anderson said today that 111 Allied pilots are presumed to be alive in Communist captivity despite Red claims they repatriated all Korean War prisoners.

The Fifth Air Force Commander said he could not elaborate on the nationalities of the pilots or where they might be held.

Authoritative reports list 13 of the missing airmen as seen alive on the ground after they parachuted from crippled aircraft.

Forty more were either spotted bailing out or made known by radio their intention of parachuting. Fifty-eight were either seen or heard from in various ways after they were downed behind Communist lines.

Anderson said the Russians still hold German and Japanese POWs from World War II and "we don't know what they're going to do" with the missing Allied airmen.

Because Allied airpower in Korea is predominantly American, most of the missing Allied pilots presumably are Americans.

Peiping Radio and Communist newsmen have admitted that some American pilots are held in Manchuria because they violated Communist Chinese territory.

One of them has been identified by the Reds as Capt. Harold E. Fischer, double jet ace from Swea City, Ia.

Mrs. Nora Wirth Dies; Was Lincoln Resident 10 Years

Mrs. Nora Wirth, 85, 640 No. 16, died Thursday night in a local hospital.

Born June 9, 1868 in Baltimore City, Md., she was raised in Otoe County and came to Lincoln in 1943. She was preceded in death by her husband, Frank, who died in 1943.

She was a member of the Salvation Army.

Survivors include a daughter, Mrs. Jesse Ethington, Lincoln; 10 grandchildren; 22 great grandchildren and one great-great grandchild.

Russ Talk About A-Weapons Ban

Tass Says Prospects For Peaceful Use Of Atomic Energy Studied

MOSCOW (Friday) (AP) — The Soviet Union announced today it has successfully tested some "new type" atomic bombs in recent weeks.

It added Russia hoped a ban would be placed on all types of mass destruction weapons and is looking into prospects for peaceful use of atomic energy in industry.

A dispatch from the Soviet News Agency Tass published in the government newspaper Izvestia said the successful experimental tests had taken place.

The dispatch said that although the Soviet Union was able to give attention to the production of atomic weapons, the nation also followed a policy of strengthening peace and trying to reach agreement with other countries on the prohibition of atomic, hydrogen bombs and other kinds of weapons for mass destruction.

No details were given about the "new type" tested.

Tass said the Soviet Union wanted strict international control and a "realization of these decisions" to ban atomic weapons.

Meanwhile, it said, the nation is exploring the use of atomic energy for industrial purposes.

The announcement on Page 2 of Izvestia said:

"In the last few weeks, in accordance with the plans of scientific research work in the sphere of atomic energy in the Soviet Union, there were carried out trials of some new types of atomic bombs.. The trials were carried out successfully. They fully confirmed the calculations and suggestions of scientists, engineers and constructors. It is quite clear up to this time, responsible circles of the United States reject the persistent proposals of the Soviet Union about the prohibition of atomic weapons. Therefore the Soviet Union, beginning with the demands of its own security, is able to give attention to the production of atomic weapons."

Talk Of An Arms Cut

The Tass statement continued: "But together with this, the Soviet Union will further follow its policy of strengthening peace between the peoples by trying to achieve agreement with other countries on the absolute prohibition of atomic-hydrogen and other kinds of weapons for mass destruction, for the considerable reduction of armaments and the establishment of strict international control, for the realization of these conditions.

"With this in view, the Soviet Union is carrying out the task of employing atomic energy for industrial purposes. The Soviet Union considers its most important task to insure that atomic energy is put to the service of peaceful programs."

Little Surprise Shown

WASHINGTON (AP)—Officials of the Atomic Energy Commission evinced little surprise Thursday night at Moscow's announcement that the Soviet government has successfully tested some "new type" atomic bombs in recent weeks.

"The news from Moscow tonight merely confirms our statement of Aug. 31," an AEC spokesman said.

This referred to a statement in which the AEC said.

"On Aug. 23, 1953, a fission explosion took place in Russian territory. The explosion was in the same range of energy release as our recent Nevada tests and would appear to be part of a series.

"If this proves to be the fact, no further announcements will be made unless intelligence indicates information of greater interest."

Reds Plan Indochina Buildup

Communists Called To Wipe Out Enemy

TOKYO (Friday) (INS) — Peiping Radio announced today that the Communists in Indochina, whipped by a call to "wipe out the enemy," have resolved formally to step up their war against defending French Union forces.

The announcement came but a few days after Peiping hinted a negotiated peace might be possible to end the seven-year jungle war, a hint the U. S. State Department rejected.

The broadcast monitored in Tokyo revealed, however, that the Vietminh Council of Ministers passed the resolution for increased action at the end of August, which was before Peiping floated its "peace" feeler.

It was believed in Tokyo that the Chinese Communist radio withheld announcement of the adoption of the vigorous resolution until after Washington reacted to the feeler for negotiations and that the announcement was the Communist answer to Washington's rejection.

The resolution was "to strengthen the Viet Namese people's power, to carry forward their struggle of armed resistance to secure greater victories."

More specific was the report made to the council by General Vo Nguyen Giap, commander-in-chief of the army of Ho Chih Minh.

Vo's report, which guided the council of ministers, called for guerrilla and frontline action to "make use of every opportunity to wipe out the enemy."

Rankin Declines To Talk On Thone Appointment Block

WASHINGTON (AP) — Asst. Atty. Gen. J. Lee Rankin declined comment Thursday on published reports that he is blocking appointment of Charles Thone of Lincoln as assistant district attorney for Nebraska.

He said he did not care to discuss his position on the prospective appointment. But he said that the making of such appointments is "not the function of my office."

Rankin conceded that he "might have my own personal ideas concerning the appointment but they wouldn't control." The appointment is made by the attorney general.

Fund Allocation Is Delayed By Hospital Advisory Board

By ALLEN EDEE
Star Staff Writer

How $199,945.97 in federal matching funds for aid to hospital construction in Nebraska will be spent is still a moot question.

The State Hospital Advisory Board after hearing from representatives from three hospitals Thursday evening in the Governor's hearing room at the State Capitol decided to lay the decision of "who gets what" over until Oct. 22.

What troubles the board is that requests totaling $486,750 for new hospital construction was asked of them by Pender, Howard County (St. Paul), and Children's Memorial Hospital in Omaha.

What each want:

$225,000, Children's Memorial Hospital.

$135,000, Howard County.

..$126,000, Pender.

The board will consider allocations by themselves at the next meeting here.

Matching Funds

All three groups have previously made application for funds and have matching funds raised by public contributions.

The board is empowered with the allocation of the 50 per cent matching federal aid. The $199,945.97 is the balance of federal funds available up to June 30, 1954.

Appropriations by Congress set aside $540,240 in funds for Nebraska for the current fiscal year. Construction of the Sidney hospital took $330,285.03 out of the fund together with $44,714.97 from the balance of last fiscal year funds.

The federal fund allocation for this year was the "leanest year we have had so far" Dr. E. A. Rogers, ex-officio member and president of the board said. He is the state health director.

He warned the board that "it would be well to consider the reduction of percentage of funds for the next fiscal year so we can make them go further. There might even be a cancellation of the federal hospital aid program "sometime next year," he added:

Speaking on behalf of the Pender hospital trustees was William Hoppner.

Judge William F. Spikes of St. Paul, addressing the board hearing on behalf of a proposed new Howard County hospital to be located at St. Paul gave an estimate of $270,000 needed for total funds to complete a 20 bed hospital.

Childrens Memorial Hospital representative, Edward Shafton of Omaha said the hospital plans an expansion program of $474,000 for an out-patient department for the physically handicapped, an enlarged dental clinic, an expanded physical therapy room, an expanded laboratory, an occupational therapy department and an isolation ward.

23 New State Patrolmen To Get Commissions Friday After 5-Week Training Camp

The rigors of life for candidates for the Nebraska State Safety Patrol are winding up and 23 of the 32 surviving men will receive commissions and assignments Friday. The candidates Friday will wind up five weeks of intensive training in the art of policing Nebraska's highways, with the accents on courtesy and efficiency. In the photo at left Captain Don Shearer shows candidates the technique of throwing a "granny" or lead on belligerant customers. J. R. Skinner of Omaha is getting the "works" by Don Kennedy of Ralston. The candidates show their precision drill in the center photo, while on the right Candidate Dowaine Schwinck of Omaha has his "sack" inspected by Capt. O. H. Witt of Lincoln. The majority of the candidates for patrolman jobs are veterans, many of them recently returned from Korea. Instruction includes brainwork in traffic control and reporting, first aid and jui jitsu, laws pertaining to motor vehicles, laws of arrest and evidence, and rules and regulations. Col. C. J. Sanders instituted the yearly encampment for the candidates, held at the Ashland National Guard Camp, in 1940. Original applicants this year totaled 300, from which 60 were chosen for exams. Of the 60, 34 were picked to take the camp training. Two later dropped out. (Star Staff Photos.)

Assessors Oppose Tax Change

By ARCH DONOVAN
Star Staff Writer

Southeastern Nebraska county assessors met here Thursday to discuss problems connected with the new law on assessment of motor vehicles. But, when Gov. Robert Crosby spoke to them informally, they soon unburdened themselves on all phases of the tax problem in the state.

The assessors were almost unanimous in stating that thy do not want the 50 per cent of actual value assessment figure changed back to actual valuation.

Several expressed fear that the shift of the greater burden of taxation to real estate would discourage ownership of real property. All expressed the opinion that personal property was not carrying its full share of the tax burden.

Incomplete Returns

Some contended that the $200 exemption on personal property resulted in many attempting to keep their returns below this figure. Most of the assessors expressed the opinion that 25 per cent of the taxpayers do not make full returns although a few where assessors make out returns did not believe 10 per cent failed to list all property.

Tax Commissioner Norris Anderson reported that some sections of the state favored the emphasis on geting full real estate returns. He said these areas believed that in the past cattle and some other personal property carried more than its share of taxes.

It was generally agreed that new complications have arisen due to the state board only being able to equalize by blanket changes for an entire county and where county equalization has not kept political subdivisions and individuals equally treated injustices are found.

Anderson reported that he had received the suggestion from several sources that equalization be changed from an assessment basis to a levy basis. Thus if a county had low valuations the state tax levy would be increased above other counties but it would have no effect on valuations for local subdivision taxation.

Making Study

Anderson said the suggestions are all being turned over to the taxation committee of the Legislative Council headed by Sen. Otto Liebers of Lincoln which is making a study of tax problems.

The assessors reported that they have found the blanket boosts ordered by the state board realistic in 80 per cent of the cases on business inventories. This was born out in a check of federal income tax returns.

Rate Boost Studied

WASHINGTON (INS) — Sen. Frank Carlson (R-Kan) said Thursday Congress may be asked to boost the cost of mailing out-of-town letters to five cents and authorize most of them to be sent by air at no extra charge.

Carlson's announcement that the postal hikes are under consideration by advisers to his Senate Post Office Committee was considered a trial balloon to test public reaction to the idea before Congress is asked to approve it.

Prober To Marry

WASHINGTON (AP)— Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis), in a shift from Red-hunting to romance, will be married here Sept. 29 to pretty, dark-haired Jean Kerr, a former research aid in his office.

Announcement of the marriage plans came from Mrs. William P. Kerr, mother of the bride-to-be. The wedding will be held at St. Matthews (Roman Catholic) Cathedral in downtown Washington.

Houghton Furr To Join Telephone Co.

The appointment of Houghton Furr as assistant to the president of the Lincoln Telephone and Telegraph Company has been announced by Thomas C. Woods, president.

Mr. Furr was graduated from the University of Nebraska in 1940 with a Bachelor of Arts degree and then attended Harvard Law School, where he graduated in 1943.

For the past seven years he has been an assistant professor of law at the University of Nebraska and has been associated with Archie Furr & Company.

An accomplished musician, Mr. Furr is organist at the St. Paul Methodist Church of Lincoln and is a member of the Chamber of Commerce, American Legion and University Club.

Drive Reopened

VIENNA, Austria (AP)— A campaign against Jews which flared throughout Communist East Europe in 1952 has been secretly reopened in Romania and Czechoslovakia, usually reliable sources said Thursday.

Dozens of Jewish leaders were said to be under arrest — and some under long prison sentences — in the reported new drive to wipe out Jewish opposition to Communism.

Europe 'Flouted'

NEW DELHI, India (AP)— Prime Minister Nehru charged Thursday that the will of nearly all Europe and Asia was flouted by the vote of the United States and its Latin American Allies in the United Nations that barred India from the Korean peace conference.

"Somehow people don't realize the countries of Asia don't propose to be ignored or bypassed, certainly not sat upon," Nehru told Parliament's lower house in a foreign affairs debate.

He implied the United States is immature. He criticized what he called the narrow, bigoted approach of some nations to world affairs.

Debate Possible

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) —Secretary-General Dag Hammerskjold issued a brief note at U.N. headquarters Thursday night which may open a way for debate here on Red China's demand for a "roundtable" Korean peace conference. Such a conference would include five nations as neutrals against the wishes of the United States and others.

U.N. sources said delegates under U.N. rules of procedure now could debate the contents of the Communist reply because the Secretary - General has brought it specifically to their attention.

Draft Tests Set

Oatis Went 4 Months Without Fresh Air While Jailed

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the last of a series of articles written by William N. Oatis, Associated Press foreign correspondent. In previous articles he has told how Communists in Czechoslovakia arrested him on charges of espionage and sentenced him to 10 years imprisonment.

By WILLIAM N. OATIS
Copyright 1953 by The Associated Press

I was in prison in Czechoslovakia for over two years, and I can tell you this:

Living in that prison is like being buried alive. A cell there is like a tomb. And the inmate is like a man in Purgatory: He is waiting, and his problem is to get through time.

The place is called Ruzyne Prison, after a village it sits by, five miles west of Prague. I left it last May 16, because President Antonin Zapotocky pardoned me after I had served 24 months and 23 days of a 10-year sentence. (He acted in reply to a letter from my wife, but I am not sure what else may have been behind his decision.)

Of all the time I was held, I spent the first six days at police headquarters in Prague, and I spent the remainder in Ruzyne. While my trial was on at Pankrac Prison, from July 2 to 4, 1951, I was hauled there from Ruzyne every morning and hauled back every night.

Ruzyne is not a big prison, as prisons go. While I was there a new section, probably two-thirds the size of the old, was opened up, and after that I suppose there was room for more than a thousand people.

The Accommodatiops

The remarkable thing about the place was that everybody in it, with a few exceptions, was awaiting trial; he was not a convict; not even—for many months of his stay there—a defendant to an indictment; but a suspect. He was denied bail; denied visits from relatives; even denied access to a lawyer until after his indictment.

I lived in 11 cells, one after another. The largest was about 15 feet square, with a 10-foot ceiling; the smallest about 6 by 10, with an 8-foot ceiling.

The better cells were in the old building. They were larger airier and warmer. Each had a wooden floor, one or two big windows, a turkish toilet, a wash basin, a narrow wooden table and one or two seats fixed against one wall, and straw mats and pillows to sleep on. The central heating was good.

In the new building, where I moved in October, 1951, the cells were much smaller, and the windows only about a yard wide and half that high. The ordinary chamber was about 6 by 10 with one window.

The toilet was the same—a shallow, yard-wide porcelain bowl at floor level with two iron footrests. For washing there was only a cold-water tap running into the toilet bowl.

Air in Cells Foul

The air in these cells stank so that guards turned up their noses on entering. The all-metal-and-masonry construction made the places chilly. Sunlight seldom penetrated to some of the ground-floor cubicles. And the heating was irregular.

Several times I was in a cell two weeks without ever once getting beyond the door, even to go down the hall for a shower bath. Once I went more than four months without a walk in the fresh air, and another man went over nine months without one.

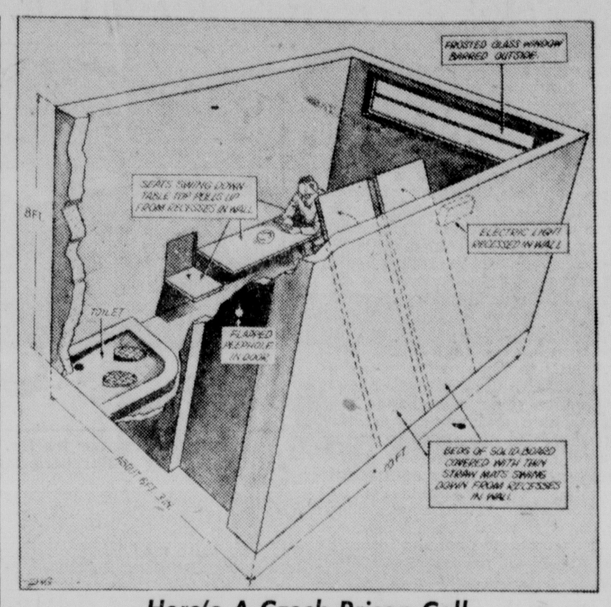
Like all prisoners in Ruzyne, I was forbid newspapers, magazines and radio, though I could read books. All the news I got there could be written handily on the head of a pin.

Received Wife's Letters

I was allowed to write my wife in St. Paul, Minn., about once every six weeks, and I got letters from her as often, sometimes two or three at a time. (Many of mine got lost somewhere along the way, and she went more than a year without direct word from me.)

Last November, I was called before a police officer to write my wife. I asked him who had won the U. S. election. He put me off. Two months later he told me it was Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

Five days before my release, I got some cartoons and verse that my wife had clipped from the New Yorker magazine. On the back of one clipping was part of the Talk of the Town column. It seemed to be a report of some ceremony. It told how "President and Mrs. Eisenhower" were on hand and how the band played "Hail to the Chief." That was how I found out that the new President was really another general.



Here's A Czech Prison Cell

Oatis spent two years in Czechoslovakian prison cells. AP Artist Ed Gunder drew this cutaway sketch of such a cell from a description supplied by Oatis, who says this is typical of such quarters.

John Bernstein Dies; Resident Here 54 Years

John W. Bernstein, 69, of 4900 So. 48th died Thursday in a Lincoln hospital. He had been a resident here for 54 years.

A native of York, Mr. Bernstein was a salesman for the Harpham Brothers Co. of Lincoln for 30 years. Recently, he had been employed as a salesman for the Wyeth Hardware Co. of St. Joseph, Mo.

Well-known in Lincoln for his peony gardens, Mr. Bernstein was a member of the National Peony Society and the Lincoln Garden Club. He was also a member of Lincoln Lodge No. 19, AF & AM.

Surviving Mr. Bernstein are his wife, Nora; one son, John serving with U.S. Navy; one daughter, Mrs. David L. Whitworth of Lincoln; three brothers, Fred of Oldham, S. D., William of Ramona, S. D., and George of Shawnee, Kan.; five sisters, Mrs. Mary Wall of Grand Island, Mrs. Emma Swanson of Hastings, Mrs. Lydia Kimmerling of Central City, Colo., Mrs. Clara Zentz of Harrisburg, and Mrs. Louis Griffith of Ana, Ill.; and three grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held Monday at 2 p.m. in Wadlow's Chapel. The Rev. David Gracey will officiate and burial will be in Wyuka Cemetery.

Hunting Mishaps Kill 3 Nebraskans In '52

The State Department of Vital Statistics Thursday reported that three Nebraskans were killed in hunting accidents in 1952 as compared to eight in 1951 and six in 1950.

Total accidental deaths by firearms in the state were 14 in 1952, 25 in 1951 and 17 in 1950.

Mission Guild Group Names New Officers

Miss Elwyn Larson was elected president Thursday of the St. David's Episcopal Mission Guild Auxiliary at the group's first meeting at the home of Mrs. Donald N. Bykerk.

Other auxiliary officers from the recently-organized mission in northeast Lincoln include the following:

Mrs. Ed Lofink, vice president.
Mrs. Darlene Ayars, secretary-treasurer.

Sixteen women attended the meeting and were welcomed by the Rev. William Cross, temporary priest-in-charge of the mission. He also announced that the Rt. Rev. Howard R. Brinker, Bishop of Nebraska, will conduct the first service of the mission on Sept. 27 at 11 a.m.

Mrs. Eleaner Williams was guest speaker and will serve in an advisory capacity in the organizational activities.

Crosby To Study Legislative Call

Gov. Robert Crosby said Thursday he would give full consideration to petitions from North Platte asking that a special session of the Legislature be called to repeal the 50 per cent assessment law, and to any suggestions for a new program that may be presented.

But, he added, up to this time he has received no suggestions which would be a "promising subject" to submit to the Legislature.

The governor has not yet received the North Platte petitions, signed by 400 residents of the city which is Crosby's home town.

NU Alumni Clubs Slate TV Parties

University of Nebraska Alumni Clubs across the nation are taking advantage of the national television broadcast of the Nebraska-Oregon football game to cement old school ties.

James Pittenger, secretary of the Alumni Association, says that at least five clubs, from California to New York, have scheduled TV parties Saturday afternoon to watch the Cornhuskers.

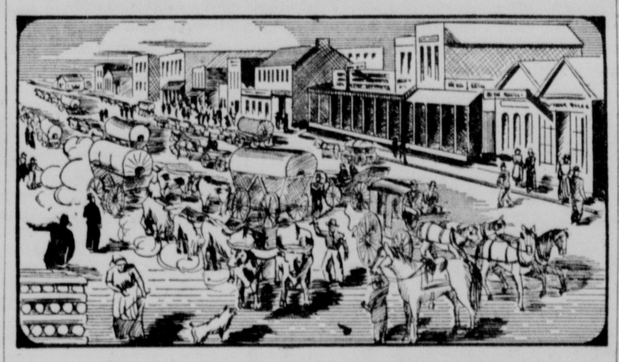
The San Francisco Bay Area club will watch the Huskers Saturday then hold a picnic and critique Sunday noon at San Mateo, according to plans relayed by Virginia Taylor Hall, club secretary.

The New York alumni have gatherings at two spots Saturday afternon, according to Matthew G. Herold of the club. Dave Rankin of Ft. Worth, Tex., is also sponsoring a gathering of ex-Cornhuskers, as is Jack O. Traver and the Milwaukee Club.

Free Legal Aid

OMAHA (AP)—Creighton University, in co-operation with Omaha attorenys, again will offer free legal aid to persons in the Omaha area unable to pay for such services.

It Happened In NEBRASKA---



Nebraska City in the 1850's was little more than an Indian country trading post. Soon this primitive log settlement was to feel the strife of the antislavery issue, as John Brown smuggled slaves along this route for their escape to the North. What trying days for a young, new city!

Since then, along with our cities, the tavern industry has "come of age." Today Nebraska taverns are conducted the same as any other business—with sales and conduct reflecting the wishes of the community, and the laws.

Something Of A Hairshirt

With a September moon in the skies adding its benediction, there was a gathering of Republicans in Fremont Wednesday night from which emerged some significant echoes.

One was a farm panel with a number of dirt farmers joining Sen. Hugh Butler, Sen. Dwight Griswold and Rep. R. D. Harrison in discussing happenings taking place out on the farms of America.

It was Sen. Griswold's considered opinion that the most fundamental thing that can be done to solve the American farm problem is to engage in foreign trade which sends our farm surpluses to hungry nations. Mr. Griswold is well aware, of course, that there is a powerful group in the Republican Party dedicated to restoring tariffs which were reduced under the reciprocal trading agreement program initiated by Cordell Hull when Mr. Hull occupied the post of secretary of state. These reciprocal trading agreements have been in effect for years. They are the backbone of the bulk of American foreign trade today. Their continuance hangs by a slender thread and will be determined by the results of a study initiated by President Eisenhower who had to take a personal hand in the battle in order to gain a 12-month extension.

Perhaps the most significant straw in the wind came from a question tossed to the panel by Dale Milliken, Fremont banker, who asked: "How many tax dollars are going to be given to foreign countries?"

That got a hand.

And then Mr. Milliken added that farmers are "bleeding" to pay the present high federal taxes.

If we are to go along with Sen. Griswold in encouraging a mounting volume of foreign trade, then we must recognize that we are going to have to be willing to buy from other countries as well as sell our surpluses to them. They need our food, these hungry peoples. What are we willing to accept from them? The question of expanding the foreign trade as the basis of a healthy American agriculture is that simple and also that complicated. We say "complicated" because once before we made the fatal mistake of going isolation economically to the near destruction of a flourishing American export business. Now, we may not like it—any little part of it—but at least for our own good health we should look it squarely in the eye and compute the costs—not abroad—but here at home. Too many times there is the temptation to cast ourselves in the heroic role of the unselfish good samaritan, when actually the fruits of our generosity, and it is a real generosity in the thinking of most Americans, bathed in kindly, humanitarian instincts, contribute substantially to our own pocketbook.

On The Local Level

It has been apparent for many years that many of the inequities of Nebraska's tax program grow out of the fact that the burden of assessing real and personal property falls upon the shoulders of a local elective official.

This is not to suggest that the county assessors in Nebraska's 93 counties fall down on the job. On the contrary, the great majority of them can take pride in their efforts to do a conscientious job. But until recent weeks, the more conscientious the county assessor, the more he contributed to inequities, it appeared. When he put in extra labor to make certain that all taxable property found its way to the assessment rolls, there was no assurance that in a neighboring county or in some county not far distant, the same items would not be overlooked. And it was recognized widely different valuations prevailed—some counties high, others low.

The full reaction to the new 50 per cent assessment law passed by the 1953 Legislature will not be apparent until after actual collections of taxes get under way. But so far as the legislative program is concerned, and the administrative steps taken to put it in force, there can be little argument. The Legislature and the governor had no choice to do anything other than has been done. It is up to the people to decide whether they want to leave Nebraska's so-called simple tax base undisturbed, with real and personal property bearing the bulk of the burdens, or whether the tax base should be broadened.

Obviously what has taken place will encourage thought on the part of the public.

Good Ol' Days

Every so often along comes someone who loudly demands to know what was good about the "good ol' days." And such was the columnist we were reading an evening or two ago. A very modern young man, he proceeded to rip the tissue paper of nostalgic charm from some of our earliest memories without a noticeable sentimental qualm.

He spoke of the summers and his mother's labors over an old range, providing food for the coming winter. He remembered the long hours of his father's time spent in filling the woodboxes for kitchen range and living-room stove. "Granted that the sight of the rows of canned vegetables and preserves in our cellar lifted the heart, and that the isinglass-fronted living-room stove was sort of romantic," he conceded, "they are pretty much things of the past and I am quite willing to leave them there."

All of which has a somewhat depressing effect on our atom-weary soul because now we'd had it both from the youthful and the aged points of view. We had been discussing this very thing with an old-timer who had enough years to his credit that what we remembered as "good ol' days" had been a fast-moving and modern era to him. We had paused in our reminiscence to inquire of him:

"Was life really better then, or do we just imagine it so now?"

He chuckled and his faded blue eyes softened with the wisdom of age.

"You just thought it was better," he said gently, "because you were young then and the world was your bright oyster."

Maybe so. Maybe so. But nothing today in enamel or shiny chrome compares to those evenings when that same old kitchen range had died down enough to open the oven door, draw up a rockerful of pillows, and toast one's shins while the teakettle hummed a lullaby and the only other sounds above the turning pages of the book in one's lap were a drowsy cricket and the scraping of spoon on pan from the evening batch of homemade fudge.

Of Men And Things

Out at Trenton Friday there was a meeting scheduled to talk over plans to offset the damage resulting from a dry, hot summer which cut the harvest and in individual instances nullified a season's labors.

★

Sen. Art Carmody of Trenton told us Monday that in his locality, it was drier than it had been at any time in the last 40 years. The fact seems to be that a strip in the southwest part of the state has been having much the same experience as western Kansas and southeastern Colorado. Naturally the people of a state who through all the years of statehood have been schooled to keep a watchful eye on the skies will understand the concern now being expressed. Fortunately Nebraskans have learned a great deal in the last 20 years. Not the least of the training has been the gratifying spread in sound soil conservation practices to conserve to the maximum every drop of precious water. We have taken irrigation too much for granted in these years of a wet cycle when its need in a balanced agriculture was minimized greatly.

Improved Methods To Combat Drought

Back in the 'thirties we were talking irrigation constantly. We were thinking of how we could make the most beneficial use of waste and flood waters journeying to the sea. The idea of life-giving water for our parched fields appealed strongly to our imagination. We could look out over lush green valleys untouched by the hot sun or by the absence of rainfall. Then the rains came, and we forgot about the part that irrigation could play in the life of the people of this state. We say we forgot, but that is not fully the case. Actually there has been gratifying expansion in the facilities to provide irrigation in Nebraska. Much of that Republican Valley, the upper reaches of which are now in distress, will be able to testify to greatly increased production because of what has been done.

★

Enders Dam on the Frenchman is now complete. Just over the divide, the Medicine Creek developments have been finished. And on the Republican itself, the fall and winter and early spring months will see waste and flood waters stored as against needs later next summer. We take these small streams, and we are inclined to discount what can be accomplished by way of storage. Even a small, shallow stream piling up against a huge earthen dam every minute of the hour and every hour of the day and every day of the week can build into a great lake. We not only have the instruments here in Nebraska that were not in existence in the 'thirties, but we have much improved types of seed, much advanced methods of cultivation. In short, we have better farming. In these recent years this writer has felt that the progress made by the farm people of Nebraska in taking care of the soil and in doing a better job of farming has gone unnoted all too much.

Water Piling Up Against The Dams

We are likely to be thoughtless when natural conditions are so favorable as to require little effort in attaining abundant harvests. It is in less favorable circumstances that the true character and resourcefulness of the people of Nebraska demonstrate themselves. This year has altered Nebraska's role. The fight is not against devastating floods. Our battle is against moisture shortage. In this column occasionally we hope to point out a few of the advantages we now possess which were not present 20 years ago.

Home, Sweet Home

The native-born, it seems, will tolerate inconvenience or discomfort or even downright misery as long as it's their own community that's involved, and we of Nebraska are no exception.

Here in the Midwest we encounter eccentricities of weather that touch nearly every page of the book, and range from one end of the thermometer to the other. A conversation rising above a steaming, brow-mopping busful of humanity during the latest—and we hope the last for the season—heat wave illustrates the everyday philosophy.

"My kids out in Washington state think I'm crazy to come back to this," puffed one portly, perspiring dowager to another. "I don't know, though—I keep coming back. It gets hot and it gets cold here in Nebraska—but it's home."

'Ex' Gives 'Would-Be' Leadership Pep Talk

WASHINGTON — The most important thing that happened backstage at the Chicago Democratic powwow was a fatherly pep talk which Harry S. Truman, ex-president, gave Adlai Stevenson, would-be-President. At it Harry, the old bare-fisted political slugger, urged Adlai, the cultured appealer-to-reason, to get in there and pitch.

The talk occurred at an extremely private dinner before other Democratic bigwigs reached the windy city.

Hitherto, Stevenson has been somewhat ill at ease with Truman. At times during the campaign last year he was irked and irritated at the way Harry insisted upon making his administration the most important issue.

Truman in turn had been needled by some of the old palace guard, notably Matt Connelly, against Stevenson. This time, however, they talked as equals and seemed to get along this time perfectly, however, even though Truman talked like a Dutch uncle.

"It's your turn at the wheel," the ex-President told the would-be-President, "and I want you to take it.

"Leadership can't wait. The party needs it and you've got to step in and take it," Truman urged. "A political party doesn't run itself. It has to be given direction, its policies have to be shaped. And you can't stand back and wait until you've made up your mind what you want to do. There's been enough of this dignified acquiescence."

At one point in the discussion Stevenson expressed doubt that he could be elected. He said he wasn't sure he had all the qualifications necessary for the presidency.

"Aw listen," replied the frank and impulsive ex-President, "if a knuckle-head like me could get elected and make a go of it, you wouldn't have any trouble at all."

A friend of Stevenson's predicted that as a result of the Truman pep talk he would take some forthright steps as leader of the Democratic Party.

DEMOCRATIC GROWLS

The old gang-up against Sen. Estes Kefauver which took place in Chicago a year ago was apparent again the other night. Though Sen. "Daniel Boone," as he's now called by many Democratic politicos, rolled up the biggest primary vote of any primary candidate last year, he was barred by the palace guard this week from any prominent part in the Chicago festivities.

Speaker after speaker, some of them inconsequential, popped up to the rostrum in a program that dragged beyond the endurance of the most loyal Democrats, but Kefauver, who had made the mistake of arousing Truman's bitter enmity, was not among them. Even when the honored guests were introduced, toastmaster Sen. Gillette carefully repeated to the audience that they were not to applaud until all speakers were introduced. He made this remark just before introducing the senator from Tennessee.

There was also Democratic resentment against Steve Mitchell, youngish, well-meaning national chairman. Mitchell has rubbed a lot of Democratic stalwarts the wrong way, some, such as Fulbright of Arkansas, so that they won't even speak to him.

In preparing the Chicago dinner, Mitchell completely ignored Col. Jake Arvey, the man who first picked Adlai Stevenson to run for governor of Illinois. Finally, after Mitchell got into trouble with his chairman, he went to Arvey.

"You've made your choice — go ahead with it," Arvey told him.

If it wasn't generally known that Mitchell was bowing out as chairman shortly, the Democratic National Committee should have acted this week to hasten his bow.

DEM'S BEST CRACKS

Here are some of the best cracks got off by Democratic bigwigs in the Chicago lampoonfest against the Eisenhower administration: Sen. Sparkman of Alabama: "When Secretary Durkin's place is filled there'll be more money in the Cabinet than in the Treasury." . . . Congressman Dawson of Chicago, one of two Negroes in the House: "The job of a corporation is to make money. The job of the United States government is to have a heart for the American people. Yet Charlie Wilson says, 'What's good for General Motors is good for the United States.' " . . . Georgie Jessel, when a waiter dropped a tray: "That was John Foster Dulles; he just stubbed his toe again." . . . Sen. Gillette of Iowa, quoting Truman re Sen. McCarthy: "If one man is afraid to speak his mind, then the nation is in peril of losing its freedoms." . . . Eugenie Anderson, ex-ambassador to Denmark: "How can we expect to build up the NATO defense of Europe when we are cutting down here at home?" . . . Adlai Stevenson: "The Republicans will now charge us with creeping harmony." "The Democratic problem is how to break through the sound barrier of the one-party press." "The Republican motto is: 'When in doubt, appoint a commission.' " . . . Stevenson, referring to GOP threats against Russia coupled with GOP budget cutting: "The Republicans are telling Moscow, 'One false move from you guys and we'll reduce the defense budget another billion dollars." . . . Sen. Douglas of Illinois: "The great trait of the Democratic party is its ability to withstand oratory."

MARQUIS CHILDS

Gov. Stratton Eyes Douglas Senate Post

CHICAGO—The trouble with a party out of power is that it tends to look like an antique shop. The political show window is filled with former this-and-thats. And each ex-office holder struggles to keep his place in the sun of publicity.

The Republicans newly returned to power offer their wares with the confidence born of success. That confidence is reflected in the scramble for the nomination for senator in the election next year and the opportunity to run against Sen. Paul H. Douglas, Democrat and former economics professor, who now holds the seat.

All sorts of contestants are maneuvering for position in the firm belief that '54 will also be a Republican year. Several Illinois members of the House would like to step up to the Senate. One is Rep. Fred Busbey who has been a Chicago Tribune favorite on the Red issue. Another is Rep. Harold Velde, chairman of the House un-American Activities Committee. But unhappily, Velde comes from Pekin which is also the hometown of Sen. Everett Dirksen and obviously both senators could not come from that distilling center.

But the Republican high command in Washington has other ideas about the runner to enter in this important race. Their choice is Gov. William G. Stratton, who succeeded Adlai Stevenson at Springfield.

Stratton, the son of an oldtime politician for many years secretary of state of Illinois, has had a curious career. Shortly before World War II he was elected to the House. An America-firster, it was shown that his franking privilege was made available to Nazi Propagandist George Sylvester Viereck who used it to send out thousands of speeches attacking Britain and the interventionists. As a result, Stratton went into eclipse.

Last fall he defeated Sherwood Dixon, lieutenant governor under Stevenson and part of the reform movement that had brought the Democrats into state office. As governor he has made a surprising comeback, winning praise from newspapers that had been most strongly opposed to him.

For example, Stratton vetoed the Broyles Bill which would have instituted a far-reaching system of loyalty investigation and surveillance in the state. Stevenson had previously vetoed a similar measure. This year the bill was widely opposed by church and teaching groups. It was supported by the American Legion and one or two other veterans' organizations.

Stratton is credited with standing up to the powerful trucking lobby. With a Republican legislature he got a re-apportionment bill passed which had long been sought. So the transformation from "Billy the Kid," the nickname applied by the opposition in the campaign, to successful and responsible governor has seemed to friend and foe almost miraculous. There are even rumors that Dirksen may accept a high federal post—perhaps as secretary of labor—which will open the way for Stratton's resignation as governor and his appointment to the vacancy thereby created in the Senate. That would give him a running headstart for the office.

But doubters still have their fingers crossed on the Stratton switcheroo. They believe he would be an addition to the neo-isolationist—"nationalist" is probably a better term—bloc in the Senate opposing most of President Eisenhower's foreign policy.

That bloc is showing increasing power and coherence with the apparent intention of taking over the direction of the party's policy. Sen. Homer Capehart of Indiana is initiating a move which would give committee chairmen in the Senate working control over the Senate's Republican Policy Committee. If this succeeds, the authority of men opposed to much of the Eisenhower program would be greatly increased. The majority leader, Sen. William Knowland, who has consistently supported a policy of co-operation with allies in both Europe and Asia, would be in a rather lonely position.

All this indicates that the focus of power within the Republican Party is centering on the Midwest which was for so long the heartland of both Republicanism and isolationism. It is not a consistent pattern. Many Midwestern Republicans are all for supporting Eisenhower on the basic issues of foreign policy.

Among the Republican women gathering here for a regional conference, to cite one example, is Mrs. Elizabeth Heffelfinger of Minneapolis, national committeewoman from Minnesota. Mrs. Heffelfinger has taken an active part in the effort to build confidence in the United Nations and UNESCO by showing the constructive work the world organization is doing and by disproving the reckless charges made against it in hostile and unceasing propaganda.

So the GOP is by no means unanimous. Yet it is true that those who fought hardest to prevent the Eisenhower nomination are resurgent.

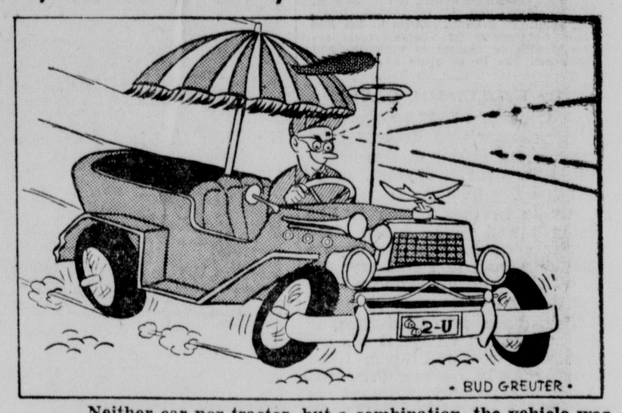
THE NEIGHBORS SAY

Not A Tractor, Not A Car, But It Runs

Nebraskans are nothing if not self-sufficient when it comes to the fundamentals of necessity and invention. Arnold Steiner, Burchard farmer, had need for a vehicle of sorts, so he gathered up odd parts here and there, put them together, bought a set of tires for $25, and took off in a cloud of dust. The auto-tractor is to be used primarily as a corn press, with the front wheels 40 inches apart, and the rear wheels, 42 inches. The wheelbase is six feet and the machine is propelled by a Wisconsin engine. Wheels and transmission of the hybrid are from an old 1922 Buick. Mr. Steiner has been using it as a car, but with the addition of several more gears can change the drive chain and make a tractor out of it. He plans also to add a frame on which he can carry fuel barrels and other equipment to and from the field. On its maiden voyage into town, bugs and insects gave him a bad time until he bought some sun glasses—the machine has no windshield.



. . . Neither car nor tractor, but a combination, the vehicle was put together by a Burchard farmer mostly for use as a corn press . . .

Burt County is not doing any complaining on crop yields this year, according to M. D. Hemphill, Plaindealer editor. To be sure, heat and dry weather dimmed corn prospects there considerably, but considering that not far from them, farmers are cutting elm trees to feed their cattle, salvaging withered corn stalks for ensilage, living in homes where dust and sand seep through and wells are drying up, they consider themselves particularly fortunate. "Travel most any direction from Tekamah and you won't need to go far before you find conditions much less favorable than they are in this community," Mr. Hemphill reminds his readers.

Time was when Mrs. Helen Marr, Walthill farm wife and Citizen columnist, averaged a yearly total of nearly 500 quarts of fruit and vegetables canned. As the number around the family table dwindled, so did her yearly output, but still the backlog accumulated until of necessity she has had to sort out, use or dispose of the too-old, the spoiled, and the unpopular. The demand for jams and jellies is not what it once was in the Marr household, either.

"You see, my 'bread-and-jelly gang' has gone. I no longer have a group of 'oven-watchers' waiting for the fresh bread and jelly treats."

Zela H. Loomis of Columbus Telegram editorial columns was writing about the oil painting of Sen. Hugh Butler recently presented to the state, and wondered "if the political wolves who connived in effort to have the state-owned statue of William Jennings Bryan removed from the steps of the capitol and banished to some isolated spot will now bare their fangs and demand a similar fate for the senator's portrait. . . . Personally we like to see statues and pictures of personalities prominent in the history of Nebraska placed and preserved in our state capitol. . . . We cannot believe their presence there will in any manner adversely affect the morals of the people of this commonwealth."

Curb Service

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: We the citizens of Lincoln should all stand and applaud the four members of the City Council who voted against the curb-teller banking service.

Many people enjoy driving around four or five blocks three or four times trying to find a parking place. When you do get to park, you are usually so far away that by the time you get to your bank and return, you have a parking ticket. Perhaps the council needs this revenue from parking meters and tickets. I understand a fee of $350 was to have been charged the banks for the privilege of doing curb service business.

This action by the council is appalling. The banks would have been overcharged in comparison to other businesses. It is about time we had a council that worked for the people of Lincoln and not for the limited few who benefit personally.

Organization Need

York, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: That Cecil Matthews is on the trail of the senators who have been whittling away the benefit of assistance providence at a time when the number on assistance rolls has dropped nearly one-third, is indeed cheering to the old folks. As the writer from Blair recently stated, a "house-cleaning" of the senators is very much needed. The old folks should begin organizing in every county.

A Crazy Trip

Just because everybody else is going to be doing it, we are going to take a trip—one great final fling in the arms of summer's departing freedom.

Preliminary preparations for the trip are complete. The car has been gassed, oiled and polished until, looking at your reflection, you can't tell which are the cracks in its paint and which are the wrinkles in your face. I have gone over the route with map and chart, almost inch by inch, marking down the danger points, checking off the possible heavy traffic centers. The car's brakes have been adjusted, the steering knuckle tested.

Within the limits of human foresight, we are ready to venture out by car this week-end, and still avoid the morgue.

We shall have all the satisfaction of a trip—the thrill of preparation and anticipation, the joy of the takeoff and the quiet triumph of arrival at our destination—and all of its accompanied by the tranquil peace and security which makes a holiday so satisfying.

We're going to drive around the block.

No ordinary jaunt, this, however. No week-day putting of the car away. This is an expedition and, strange though it may seem, it has a purpose. Two of them, really. One is to get around the block, put the car in the garage and enjoy a loafing, quiet week-end without blare of horns, odor of exhaust, sting of sunburn and danger of death.

Preliminary surveys have disclosed that the point of greatest peril during the journey will be the Johnson's driveway, four doors north of our house. A large tree there partially obscures the view of intersecting traffic, if any. Our strategy of approach to the Johnson's driveway has been worked out in detail, however, as have all other elements of the trip.

The other reason, and the big one, is that Lee, our son, has only recently learned to drive a car—and with all this fuss about a trip around the block, I'm willing to bet heavily on the proposition that there won't be a holiday for several years to come when, if he is in an automobile, the subject of safety won't be pretty close to the surface in his thinking.

Besides, it's fun to be crazy, sometimes.

Home Buyer's Mortgage Costs More

Figures Of Real Estate Men Given

OMAHA (AP) — Today's home buyer still gets a mortgage, but it costs him more money than in did a few years ago, speakers agreed Thursday at a panel opening the convention here of the Nebraska Real Estate Association.

"Lots of loans still are being made, but the lenders can't make them for peanuts any more," said William B. Hargleroad Jr. of Omaha, panel moderator.

Interest rates to lenders should average 5 per cent, said Mrs. Gladys Forsyth, president of the Lincoln First Federal Savings and Loan Association.

With FHA and G.I. loans paying 4½ per cent, a lender must balance this with conventional loans paying 5¼ to 5½ per cent, she said.

"All lenders are very conscious of the possibility of over-building," she added. "A large oversupply means a broken market for all types of homes."

Buyers From 20 States Will Attend Cattle Sale

BASSETT, Neb. (AP)—Buyers from as far east as Pennsylvania are expected here for the Sand Hills Cattle Association's annual auction of feeder cattle Oct. 3.

Floyd Lackaff, association president, predicted buyers would come from 20 states to bid on some 80 carloads of stock which will be sold in carload lots. Buyers from 17 states attended the 1952 sale.

Six judges will rate the feeder stock and animals will be sold according to their placings. A barbecue buffalo dinner is scheduled for Friday night preceding the sale.

Five Nebraskans Receive Welding Foundation Prizes

Five Nebraskans were among 104 high school boys in 27 states who won a total of $5,000 in prizes from the James F. Lincoln Arc Welding Foundation, Cleveland, O.

Annual awards are given for the best description by farm boys of how they used or could use arc welding in a farm project.

Charlie Trumble of Papillion and Galen Kennel of Geneva, among the fourth place winners, received $100 prizes.

An additional $100 went to their schools to be used for the improvement of shop courses.

A $50 prize winner was Charles Gilbert of Johnson, Neb., who attended Auburn High School.

Gale Henry of Crawford and Dwaine Sutton of Ashby, who attended Alliance High School, won $25 awards.

H. B. Tyler, 83, Veteran Publisher, Dies In Ainsworth

AINSWORTH, Neb. (AP) — H. B. Tyler, 83, editor and publisher of The Ainsworth Star-Journal, died Thursday.

Tyler, who had been active until ill health forced his retirement last July, would have been 84 Oct. 2 and would have completed 30 years with the paper Oct. 1.

A native of Niles, Ohio, Tyler homesteaded at Brownlee in Cherry County in 1907. In 1919 he purchased the Woodlake Stockman and in Oct. 1923, bought the Ainsworth Star-Journal. He also published the Long Pine Journal until it was discontinued. In 1945, he purchased the Brown County Democrat which was merged with the Star Journal.

For the past four years his sons, Gerrit V. and Robert H. have been associated with him. Another son, Norman, works for a Minneapolis, Minn., paper. Also surviving is a daughter, Mrs. George W. Siebold of Laramie, Wyo.

Funeral services will be held Monday at 2 p.m. at the Congregational Church here.

Lynx Is Killed Near Chadron; Deer Curious

CHADRON, Neb. (AP)— Charles E. Dawkins of Chadron, a railroad fireman, is arranging to have a small rug made from the hide of a lynx he spotted and shot west of Chadron this week.

The lynx is the first reported killed in this area in several years.

Dawkins was checking his favorite hunting spot with a view to cleaning out some of the owls Sunday night when he caught a glimpse of the lynx in his lights. He wounded the animal with one shot, then followed it across a creek and finished it off with a second shot.

Before that, a buck deer wandered up to the car to look it over.

Drought Increases Farm Loan Need

Loans No Harder To Get—Co-Op

Drought and the farm credit situation—as more farmers apply for loans—got top billing at the meeting Thursday at the Lincoln Hotel of the seven Nebraska Production Credit Cooperative Associations.

The secretary-treasurers and association committee members reported that serious drought conditions prevail in their areas. However, the drought is not confined to particular areas but rather is spotted throughout the state.

"More and more" farmers and ranchers are applying for loans as the dry hot weather continues, reported the associations. The "good farm operators" are included among those who are asking for loans as well as the smaller operator who has lost his crop, the group revealed.

"There has been no tightening of credit on the part of the associations," Everett Spangler, vice-president of the Omaha Production Credit Corporation, said. Spangler added that the association members reported that in the 20 years of their operation, co-operation between the association and the farmer has never been better.

Associations represented at the meeting Thursday included the following:

Lincoln, South Omaha, Hastings, Broken Bow, Beatrice, Columbus, Grand Island

According to Spangler, the Hastings and Grand Island associations reported the most serious drought conditions. "The conditions out there are similar to the conditions reported from Hitchcock and Dundy counties," Spangler said.

(Hitchcock and Dundy counties will be holding a meeting Friday to determine whether or not they will ask the President to declare their area a "drought disaster area.")

Also on the agenda Thursday was the plans for the celebration of Production Credit Associations' 20th anniversaries in December and February. All seven associations will be completely member-owned at the time of their annual stockholders' meeting during those months.

CYO Takes Dating As Congress Theme

Dating and its influence on a career in marriage or in service of the church provided the theme for the 13th annual Catholic Youth Organization congress which opened in Lincoln Thursday.

More than 1,000 Catholic teenagers and priests from southern Nebraska registered for the two-day conference.

An ideal romance needs an ideal partner, the Rev. Godfrey Poage, C.P., of Chicago, told the young people attending the Thursday night banquet.

Superficial things attract persons first, he said, but it is the sincere qualities of a person which are important in marriage.

Love Defined

"Emotional love is an overflow from spiritual love of God," he said. "Romance is worked out with the head. The heart follows."

Father Poage, youth worker and vocational director, delivered the sermon at the solemn pontifical mass which opened the conference Thursday morning.

Each person should achieve happiness where it can do the most for God, himself and his fellowmen, he said.

Exceptionally gifted persons, the leaders, he said, may find their greatest happiness as priests or nuns instead of in marriage.

Church leaders, he said, have chosen their vocation since they are looking for greater stimulus than one family can give. He said they love humanity, not one person.

Dates and future careers, either in the church or in marriage, affect each other, the Rev. Hugh Calkins, O.S.M., of Chicago, told the teenagers Thursday afternoon.

Conflicting Ideals

Father Calkins, a writer, lecturer and retreat master, said each teenager is confronted with the conflict between the ideals of the church and the behavior of persons around him.

Every worthwhile romance, he said, must have God in the picture.

He listed three standards which he said every person should keep in mind when going out on a date.

"1. Keep yourself in God's friendship.

"2. Keep your marriage goal before you at all times.

"3. Believe in the virtues of chastity."

Hold Dance

Thursday's activities concluded with a dance. Friday's session will open with mass and communion at St. Mary's Cathedral celebrated by the Rev. Edward Tuchek of Lincoln.

Father Calkins will discuss planning dates at 10 a.m. A workshop for priests will be held at the same time. Members of the Dioceasan Youth Council will be elected at 10:45 a.m. All meetings will be held at the Cornhusker Hotel.

CYO regional directors attending the conference are:

The Rev. D. E. Cooper, Belwood.
The Rt. Rev. Msgr. J. F. Ekeler, V.F., Crete.
The Rev. C. J. Crowley, Hebron.
The Rev. John Flynn, Dawson.
The Rev. Charles Keenan, Hastings.
The Rev. James Dillon, Lawrence.
The Rt. Rev. Msgr. Dennis L. Barry, Indianola.
The Rev. B. E. Kalin, Holdrege.
The Rev. Daniel Pohl, Lincoln.
The Rev. Peter Gadient, Palmyra.
The Rev. William Rezabek, Prague.
The Rev. C. Reisdorff, York.

Bishop Louis B. Kucera of Lincoln celebrated mass Thursday morning. Assisting him were the Rev. M. G. DeWitt and the Rev. R. F. Sheehy of Lincoln, and Fathers Ekeler, Pohl, Riesdorff, Gadient and Kalin.

Laymen Organize 'Men Of Midland'

FREMONT, Neb. (AP)—Carl H. Falk of Omaha has been named president of a newly formed laymen's auxiliary which will promote the interest of Midland College.

The new group, Men of Midland, will carry out a program for aiding and promoting Midland and its program of Christian higher education, Falk said.

Other officers include John Hueske, Hastings, vice president; David Warner, South Sioux City, secretary, and Henry A. Gunderson, Fremont, treasurer.

Falks said the goal of the group would be to have a membership of 2,500 within a year. Each member contributes a minimum of $10 a year to the college.

State Briefs: King Korn Boosters Tour Planned

PLATTSMOUTH—The boosters of the annual King Korn Karnival will make a tour of neighboring communities next week to advertise the coming event. According to John Soennichsen, president of the boosters group, the caravan will tour Glenwood, Ia., Bellevue, Papillion and Springfield in Sarpy County and Louisville, Weeping Water, Avoca, Nehawka, Union and Murray in Cass County.

ELGIN—A large group of relatives and friends gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Swanson in honor of their 60th wedding anniversary. The couple have lived in the southern part of Antelope County during their entire married life.

INLAND—The town of Inland observed its 75th anniversary recently and the 200 residents of the town and surrounding area gathered for the event. Carl Stimbert read a history of the community. Many of the older residents of Inland were on hand for the celebration.

ALMA—An elevator formerly owned by the Farmers Co-Op Equity Exchange was moved to a new location. The move was made necessary by the construction of the Harlan County Dam and reservoir and the relocation of the Burlington railroad. The elevator measures 28 by 32 feet and weighs approximately 100 tons. It towers 72 feet in the air after being loaded on wheels.

SHELBY—Plans are being made for a "Corn Day" celebration here Oct. 1. Harold Blevins, chairman of the committee in charge said activities will include a parade and a free pancake feed. Five bands will take part in the parade.

AINSWORTH—A group of 12 business and professional men in Ainsworth have launched a drive to raise funds for the construction of a $60,000 swimming pool. This marks the first time that an organized effort has been made for a local pool. Several fund-raising projects are planned.

HASTINGS—The fall semester has opened at Hastings College with the traditional chapel ceremony. The enrollment this year stands at 560. President Dale D. Welch was speaker at the first chapel program.

Four Adventuresome Young Men Find Europe Bike Tour Educational And Fun

Education, adventure and lots of fun are the net results of a two-month bicycle tour of Europe recently completed by four young men from the University of Nebraska.

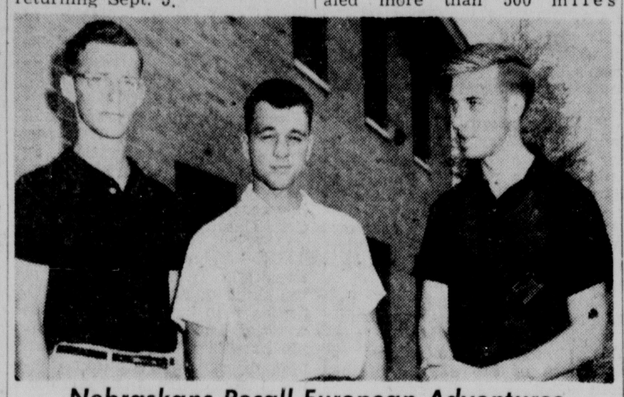
Three of the foursome—Don Crook of Ainsworth, Dick Schilling of Lincoln and Jim Adams of Aurora—met briefly in Lincoln to retell tales of their summer's adventure. The fourth member, Duane Nielsen of Moorehead, Ia., is still touring eastern United States on his way home.

The four men, all members of Delta Tau Delta fraternity, departed from Montreal, Canada, on June 24th with the minimum of finances, no travel plans but high hopes of adventure before returning Sept. 5.

The foursome purchased high-speed racing bikes with gears while visiting friends in Scotland. They estimated they pedaled more than 500 miles through the Scottish highlands, the Low Countries and Germany. However, when they reached the Alps they sent their bikes on to Paris and resorted to the trains.

Many of their amusing experiences resulted from language difficulties. Collectively, they could speak a little French, a little German and had difficulty understanding the Queen's English in Great Britain.

When in Copenhagen, Denmark, Nielsen went to visit his father's brother who had never left the old country. Adams, who accompanied him on the visit, said that none of the members of the Nielsen household could speak a word of English. By showing them pictures of his father and other members of his family, Nielsen managed an introduction. A few days later, a Danish friend was called in to translate and the Nielsen's had a pleasant reunion.



Nebraskans Recall European Adventures

Aandahl To Attend Republican Valley Conservation Meeting

McCOOK, Neb. (AP)—Assistant Interior Secretary Fred Aandahl, former governor of North Dakota, will be among dignitaries attending the 15th annual meeting of the Republican Valley Conservation Association here Wednesday, Sept. 30, the association announced Thursday.

The meeting comes on the eve of the dedication of Trenton Dam—a project which the association long has pushed.

Other officials listed to attend include Commissioner of Reclamation Wilbur Dexheimer and Brig. Gen. W. E. Potter of Omaha, Missouri River Division chief for Army Engineers.

The Republican Valley organization will hold forenoon and afternoon sessions followed by a banquet at which several of the visitors are expected to speak.

The Trenton Dam dedication program calls for a parade through the streets of Trenton in the forenoon, a luncheon in Trenton for special guests, and the dedication program at the dam site two miles west of Trenton from 2 to 3:30 p.m.

M. O. (Bud) Ryan, now Washington, D.C., counselor for the RVCA, will be master of ceremonies at the dedication.

Gifts Of $6,000 Made To Nebraska University

Three new gifts totaling $6,000 have been received by the University of Nebraska through the University of Nebraska Foundation for research and scholarships, according to Perry W. Branch, director-secretary of the foundation.

The contributors are: Spencer Chemical Company, Kansas City, Missouri—$3,000; Mathieson Chemical Corporation, Baltimore, Maryland—$2,500; Lincoln Association of Fire and Casualty Agents, Lincoln, Nebraska—$500.

The $3,000 Spencer Chemical Company grant will be used to aid in financing research studies designed to evaluate the role of nitrogen fertilizer in maintaining an adequate supply of nitrogen in Nebraska soils.

Mathieson Chemical Corporation's grant of $2,500 will be used for research studies to improve phosphorus fertilization practices for field crops with the aid of radioactive isotopes.

The sum of $500 was received to establish a fund to be known as the "Lincoln Association of Fire and Casualty Agents Scholarship Fund."

Four Adventuresome Young Men Find Europe Bike Tour Educational And Fun

Education, adventure and lots of fun are the net results of a two-month bicycle tour of Europe recently completed by four young men from the University of Nebraska.

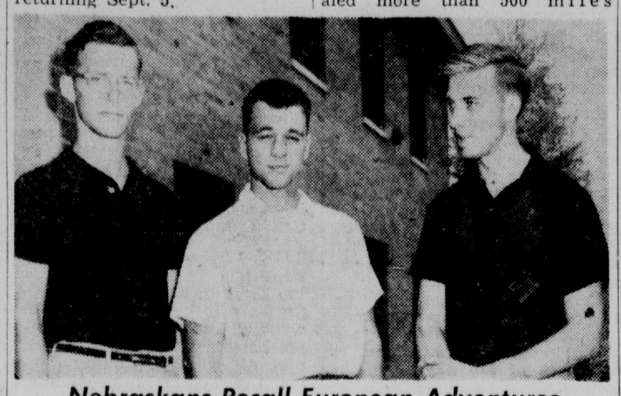
Three of the foursome—Don Crook of Ainsworth, Dick Schilling of Lincoln and Jim Adams of Aurora—met briefly in Lincoln to retell tales of their summer's adventure. The fourth member, Duane Nielsen of Moorehead, Ia., is still touring eastern United States on his way home.

The four men, all members of Delta Tau Delta fraternity, departed from Montreal, Canada, on June 24th with the minimum of finances, no travel plans but high hopes of adventure before returning Sept. 5.

The foursome purchased high-speed racing bikes with gears while visiting friends in Scotland. They estimated they pedaled more than 500 miles through the Scottish highlands, the Low Countries and Germany. However, when they reached the Alps they sent their bikes on to Paris and resorted to the trains.

Many of their amusing experiences resulted from language difficulties. Collectively, they could speak a little French, a little German and had difficulty understanding the Queen's English in Great Britain.

When in Copenhagen, Denmark, Nielsen went to visit his father's brother who had never left the old country. Adams, who accompanied him on the visit, said that none of the members of the Nielsen household could speak a word of English. By showing them pictures of his father and other members of his family, Nielsen managed an introduction. A few days later, a Danish friend was called in to translate and the Nielsen's had a pleasant reunion.



Nebraskans Recall European Adventures

Doane College's Dr. Rossman Given Lectureship To Helsinki University

CRETE, Neb. (Lincoln Star Special)—Dr. Kenneth R. Rossman, Doane College history department chairman, has been announced as the recipient of a Fullbright lectureship to the University of Helsinki in Finland. Dr. Rossman has been granted a year's leave of absence from Doane College.

The Fulbright award has been set up by the Fulbright Act to promote better understanding between the United States and other countries. Prof. Rossman was selected by one of thirty national committees set up for that purpose.

Dr. Kenneth R. Rossman

Associate Prof. John Brenneman will act as chairman in the history department during Dr. Rossman's absence. Verlyn Barker, a Doane graduate, has taken a year's leave from Yale divinity studies to serve as an instructor in the history department.

Bids Opened

Bids were opened Thursday on 42 projects for providing maintenance gravel asked by the state highway department on Sept. 17. The cost will be borne by state maintenance funds alone. Total of the apparent low bids was $218,757.

Omaha Boy, 17, Is Sent To Industrial School

A 17-year-old Omaha youth, who had pleaded guilty in Lancaster District Court to issuing a $625 no-account check with intent to defraud a Lincoln auto dealer, was committed Thursday to the Kearney State Industrial School for Boys by Judge Harry Spencer.

Authorities said the check was used to purchase an automobile, which the youth had later wrecked.

The Court noted that the youth had "not once, but twice" been AWOL from the Army, since enlisting shortly after he was placed on probation from Custer County.

POW Due Soon

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Pfc. Lloyd E. Dovel of Pawnee City, Neb., is one of 301 former prisoners of war who will arrive here Sunday aboard the transport Gen. A. W. Brewster.

Holdrege School Additions Studied

HOLDREGE, Neb. (AP) — With a large enrollment placing a strain on three elementary schools, Holdrege school board members are discussing possible additions to present structures.

Surveys have indicated that the number of kindergarten pupils will hit an all time high in 1956.

The board authorized Superintendent Howard F. Schroeder to arrange a meeting with Architect Joseph Radotinsky of Kansas City, who designed two of Holdrege's new schools. First to be considered is a 2 or 3 room addition to Washington School.

In 1950, Holdrege voted $470,000 in bonds for construction of two new elementary schools. The first, Washington School, was opened in 1951 and the second, Franklin, in 1952.

TV Record Soon

OMAHA (INS) — Officials of Omaha television station WOW-TV predicted that the 200-thousandth television set in the Omaha area will be purchased this week. The station noted that when television was introduced to Omaha in August, 1949, there were only 3,879 video sets in the area.

Sen. Ferguson Says Adlai's Views Represent 'Softness Toward Reds'

CHICAGO (AP) — The Senate Republican policy chief, Sen. Homer Ferguson of Michigan, charged Thursday that Adlai E. Stevenson's proposals for cold war peace negotiations with Russia represent "appeasement" and "softness toward Communism."

Thus the GOP, on the eve of party conferences looking toward strengthening their narrow margin of control in Congress in the 1954 election, began booming a counter-barrage against attacks cut loose by the Democrats at their own party rally here earlier in the week.

Sen. Ferguson

Ferguson will be keynote speaker at the Chicago conclave of Republican women and state chairmen from the Midwest and nearby regions. He tore a page or two from the text he has ready to bang away at Stevenson, the Democratic presidential nominee in 1952, and Steven's Tuesday night foreign policy to the nation.

It is difficult to "discover," he said, "exactly what Adlai Stevenson is advocating, but anyone who has read the speech will have to admit that the old softness toward Communism which has marred his wing of the Democratic Party is still with us."

While he was at it, the Senator told questioning reporters:

1. The budget can be balanced and taxes cut by the end of next year—and without a sales tax.

2. Defense spending will have to be trimmed, along with payrolls, but this can be done through improved efficiency of operations.

3. The "mess in Washington" required some wrecking. That was a slap at former President Harry S. Truman's contention the GOP has turned a "wrecking crew" loose in the country and it is up to the Democrats to keep the nation and the world off the "road to ruin."

4. Democratic charges that President Eisenhower has broken campaign promises to farmers won't stand up.

5. Instead of what Stevenson termed "government by postponement," the GOP is providing better government by reorganization and improved performance.

Ferguson was part of the advance guard of Republicans hustling into town for two days of political huddles.

The Republican women folk—more than 1,000 of them were expected Thursday night—were concerned mainly with such problems as getting out the vote and techniques of campaigning.

Singleton Eats Steak, Buys New Clothes

Pvt. Jessie Singleton, Lincoln's second returned prisoner of war, spent his first day home eating a three-inch steak and buying civilian clothes—gray in color.

Singleton, who was a prisoner of the Chinese Communists, for one month, said the steak was a welcome change from prison "chow" which he admits was not so good.

Captured on July 13, the private said that he and 11 men were on a hill working their guns "when about a division of Chinese just moved in on us."

He was taken to Prison Camp 6 which was a main camp holding more than 175 U.N. prisoners.

"We knew the war was over but I had no idea I would be released until the Chinese called my name," Jessie said. He crossed back through Freedom Gate on Aug. 24.

Singleton said that he had no knowledge of any "progressives" in Camp 6. He added that the Chinese showed Communist movies, and "gave a lot of speeches," but that none of the prisoners were impressed by these efforts.

Reticent about prison camp life, Singleton said only that the camp was "run down and the guards were pretty nasty."

Jessie, now at home on a 30-day leave, is not eligible for discharge from the Army until July, 1954. He indicated that he may stay in the service as a career.

"I didn't really know why I was in the Army until I got to Korea on April 6," the private said. "Then when we saw how the country was torn up and how miserable the people were, we knew why we were fighting."

Singleton, a native of Arkansas, is staying with his wife's parents, the Earl C. Wixsons of 2317 So. 9th.

Daughter Sandra Ann, who will be four in October, is having no trouble in getting used to having her father home again. She modeled a pink organdy dress her father brought her and solemnly announced, "This is the dress I'm going to wear when I marry Jessie."

Lincoln residents will have a chance to officially welcome Jessie home at a parade scheduled for next Thursday evening.

AEROWAX SAVES RE-WAXING

The SHINE Comes Back Again and Again With Easy Buffing!

YOU'LL BE THRILLED! Today's Aerowax makes the job of waxing your floors and linoleum easier than ever before!

WHY? BECAUSE AEROWAX is Double-Rich in wax . . . actually contains twice as much wax as leading "hard-finish" brands! No wonder Aerowax imparts such a soft, satiny lustre to linoleum and floors! And no wonder that gleaming shine comes back again and again with easy buffing!

ONCE YOU'VE TRIED AEROWAX you'll understand why so many housewives have stopped using expensive, "hard-finish" waxes that can't be rebuffed like Aerowax because they're so "thin" in wax. Not only "thin", but so hard and brittle they actually crack and turn to powder on your linoleum! (See magnifying-glass photos below.)

DO AS MILLIONS DO . . . use Aerowax . . . the Double-Rich wax with the "Come-Back" shine! With all its wonderful advantages, Aerowax saves you real money. You actually pocket up to 28¢ a pint compared to other leading brands. Get Aerowax today!

AEROWAX Gives a Satiny Lustre That Doesn't "Crack and Powder" on Your Linoleum

Magnifying glass test shows how hard-finish waxes crack and powder on your linoleum. That's because the "hard finish" comes from a brittle, shellac-like substance . . . and not from wax at all!

Note how Aerowax retains its soft, satiny lustre. There's no cracking, no powdering, because Aerowax is Double-Rich in wax . . . contains twice as much wax as leading hard-finish brands!

STOP Paying Fancy Prices . . . Use AEROWAX

Betrothal Announced

MISS NANCI DeBORD

Mr. and Mrs. D. P. DeBord of Omaha announce the engagement of their daughter, Nanci, to Donald G. Browning, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Browning of Omaha.

No wedding date has been named.

Miss DeBord is a graduate of the University of Nebraska where she is a member of Alpha Omicron Pi Sorority; Mortar Board, honor society for senior women, and Alpha Epsilon Rho.

Mr. Browning is a senior at the University of Nebraska and is a member of Kappa Sigma Fraternity.

Keep Your Eye On The Weatherman

IT SORT of looks as if that fresh northerly wind we're always reading about intercepted the weatherman's hot forward pass and made a first down in the weather conference— Whether or not he can keep fresh and northerly until late Saturday afternoon is a moot question at the moment— That fiendish weatherman probably will give us more trouble than Oregon and turn on all of the faucets so we'll have a deluge at about 2 p.m. Saturday— Oh, well—time will tell.

TIME REALLY is marvelous— it produces all sorts of news at just the right moment— Just heard, for example, that Fred Decker of Van Nuys, Calif., has timed his business trip to Nebraska just right— He arrives today, and will be the Friday-to-Sunday guest of his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Loder — In between, of course, is Saturday and the football game.

* * *

FROM EVANSTON, Ill., has come news of the arrival of William Raymond Greer who was weighed in and ready for talcum on Thursday, Sept. 17. Young William R. is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Clifton L. Greer Jr., and his mother is the former Mary Aitken, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William I. Aitken. The baby's paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Raymond C. L. Greer of Portsmouth, N.H.

We might add that one of the young man's grandmothers, Mrs. Aitken, arrived in Evanston Wednesday evening, and we hear that his young aunt, Miss Nancy Aitken, plans to stop off briefly to make his acquaintance this week-end—en route from Lincoln to Wellesley College.

* * *

BUT BACK to town—and the week-end — and guests — Mr. and Mrs. Robert Parsons and their son, Jimmy, arrived a couple of days ago from Van Nuys, Calif., to spend a week as the house guests of Mr. Parson's brother-in-law and sister, Dr. and Mrs. LaVerne Pfeifer.

In courtesy to their guests Dr. and Mrs. Pfeifer are entertaining at an informal canape party this evening at their home.

* * *

WE'RE feeling better about the weekend and its pre-game and post-game activities— Each day brings news of another party—Learned, for instance, that Mr. and Mrs. Ellet B. Drake will be a post-game host and hostess Saturday evening at their home— and that they also have invited guests for the following Saturday evening—The second party, however, is not to celebrate a game on the home field—for that day Nebraska plays at Illinois.

* * *

UNDERSTAND that Lt. Col. and Mrs. Robert Mills arrived earlier this week from Cambridge, Mass., where the army officer is stationed, to spend two weeks as the guests of Mrs. Mills' parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Shuler, and Col. Mills' family, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mills. Both Colonel and Mrs. Mills are graduates of the University of Nebraska where Col. Mills played football—It naturally follows that he will be very much present at the N club's pre-game activities—

Last evening the visitors were the dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Harnsberger who entertained informally at their home—and on Sunday evening Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Shuler will be host and hostess at a buffet supper at their home, honoring their son-in-law and daughter. Coming from Omaha to attend the party will be Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Beyschau, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Squire, Mrs. John Messner, and Miss Madeline Proost.

They're On Their Way

They're on their way, these two Lincoln girls—Miss Jacqueline Merritt, (left) and Miss Kathryn (Tish) Swanson —and it looks as though the fun already had begun judging from the facial expressions.

Miss Swanson and Miss Merritt sailed a few days ago on the Holland-American liner, "Ryndam" for Europe where they plan to spend the next two months touring on the Continent, the British Isles, and there — The travelers sailed from the New York Harbor, and arrived in New York only a day or so before sailing time — Miss Swanson, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Swanson, spent the past year careering in New York. Miss Merritt is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Merritt.

Home-School Group Meets

Meeting Wednesday afternoon in the school auditorium, the parents of St. Teresa school children voted to affiliate with the National Home-School Association, a department of the National Council of Catholic Women devoted to the study of parent-teacher relationship problems.

A talk on the new school insurance program was given by the Rev. M. M. Kaczmarek, and the members appointed Mrs. John Pavich and Mrs. Don Barclay co-chairmen of the Christmas card committee.

Refreshments were served by the officers at the close of the meeting.

Observe Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. John Snyder will observe their Golden Wedding on Sunday, Sept. 27, at their home, 146 N. Burlington Ave. They lived in Stella until three years ago. Mrs. Snyder is the former Clara Hawley and she and her husband homesteaded near North Platte at one time.

Havelock Y-Singers

The first meeting of the fall for the Havelock YWCA Y-Singers will be held at 1:30 o'clock Tuesday, at the Havelock YWCA Center. A get-acquainted hour will follow an informal "sing-fest."

Early Autumn Wedding

Miss Dorothy Smith Hume, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Packard Hume, became the bride of James William Dinsmore, son of Mrs. Arch H. Dinsmore, all of Omaha, at a late afternoon ceremony solemnized Saturday, Sept. 12, at the First Presbyterian Church in Omaha. Lighted white cathedral candles, and arrangements of gold and bronze-toned chrysanthemums appointed the chancel for the ceremony, which was read by Dr. Thomas R. Niven.

As the 300 guests assembled, Miss Margaret Kiewit presented a prelude of organ music. Miss Kiewit also played the wedding music.

Miss Marion Hume was her sister's maid of honor and wore a full-skirted frock of bronze iridescent taffeta, the strapless basque covered with a short jacket of the taffeta. She carried a bouquet of yellow chrysanthemums. Costumed identically in gold taffeta and carrying bronze mums were the bridesmaid, Miss Virginia Hume, sister of the bride, and the bridesmatrons, Mrs. Robert P. Cheney and Mrs. Charles A. Schorr, sister of the bridegroom.

The bride appeared in a sheath gown of ivory satin completed by a redingote of Chantilly lace. A small standing collar and long sleeves designed the fitted bodice, beneath which the lace skirt flared into fullness. A cap of net and lace held her silk tulle veil, and she carried a cascade of gardenias and stephanotis.

Serving as best man was Charles A. Schorr, and seating the guests were John Howard Smith, William W. Hinchcliff, Richard H. Meissner and Donald E. Lee, all of Omaha, Charles M. Bressman of Morehead, Ia., Howard A. Dinsdale of Palmer, and Thomas Harley of Lincoln.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church parlors. For their wedding trip to Colorado, after which the couple will reside in Omaha, Mrs. Dinsmore wore a three-piece ensemble of gray and tan plaid with brown cobra accessories.

A graduate of Grinnell College, Grinnell, Ia., the bride is a member of Mortar Board and Phi Beta Kappa. Mr. Dinsmore, who is the grandson of the late Mr. and Mrs. James McNabb and the late F. W. Dinsmore of Lincoln, is a graduate of the University of Nebraska where he is a member of Phi Delta Theta. He is a senior at the University of Nebraska College of Medicine in Omaha and a member of Phi Rho Sigma medical fraternity.

PTA Board Members Named

The executive board members of WHITTIER PTA will entertain the school faculty at an informal tea Friday afternoon at the school.

At the meeting, which will replace the regular September PTA program, plans for the year's activities will be discussed.

COLLEGE VIEW PTA board members and committee chairmen met Wednesday at the school to plan the group's programs for the year. Mrs. Harold H. Women Voters Entertain At Tea

The League of Women Voters of Lincoln opened its fall season Thursday afternoon when the members entertained at tea held at the home of Mrs. Ellery Davis. Mrs. Bertrand L. Ehrmann, president, conducted a short meeting and introduced Mrs. David Dow who spoke on the American Bar Association's plan for the selection and tenure of judges, the first study topic of the year for the league.

In The Star photo are, from left, Mrs. H. W. Manter, Mrs. Robert Hughes, members of the tea committee; Mrs. Bertrand L. Ehrmann, president; and Mrs. M. T. Nogaty, formerly of Cairo, Egypt, and a guest at the tea.

Other members of the tea committee, of which Mrs. Hughes was chairman, were Mrs. I. H. Blake, Mrs. A. Fineberg and Mrs. R. H. Mohrman.

Install New Officers

The YWCA Ladies Day Out Club met Thursday afternoon for its opening program of the fall and installed Mrs. Harold D. Morgan as president. The new officers, pictured above, are (seated from left to right) Mrs. Roy C. Lipps, treasurer, and Mrs. Morgan, president. Standing, from the left, are Mrs. Dean Versaw, corresponding secretary, Mrs. Paul Bouma, vice president; and Mrs. J. G. Froscheiser, recording secretary.

The members spent the afternoon hours with cards followed by an informal tea.

Ceremony In Chicago

The marriage of Miss Wanda Rae Gardner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clinton I. Gardner of Lincoln, to Guy Robert Shaw, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Gaines, also of Lincoln, took place in the Sky Chapel, the highest place of worship in the world, of the First Methodist Church in Chicago on Tuesday evening, Sept. 15.

Only the immediate members of the families and a small group of close friends attended the 8 o'clock ceremony which was solemnized by the Rev. Charles Ray Goff, minister of First Methodist.

MRS. GUY ROBERT SHAW

Miss Sherolyn Brooks of Hillsboro, Ill., the maid of honor and only attendant, wore a black two-piece suit, with black velvet accessories. Her shoulder corsage was fashioned of white carnations.

Richard Funderburk of Galesburg, Ill., served Mr. Shaw as best man.

The bride appeared in a rose and navy toned tweed suit with which she wore blue velvet accessories. She carried a colonial bouquet of pink roses.

Following the ceremony a reception for the wedding guests was held in the Swiss Chalet room of the Bismark Hotel.

Mrs. Shaw is a former student at the University of Nebraska.

Extension Club

Mrs. Charles Palmer was hostess to the members of the Lincoln Heights Wednesday Extension Club, on Wednesday, when the group met for a 1 o'clock luncheon.

The new officers, who were elected during the business meeting, are Mrs. Lloyd Behrens, president; Mrs. Charles Palmer, vice president; Mrs. Joe Cudley, treasurer; and Mrs. Robert Chase, secretary. Mrs. Harry Rotthause will be hostess at the October meeting on the 21st day of that month.

Glassford Still Undecided On 'Team A Quarter' Idea

Depends On First Period, Says Bill As OU Arrives

. . . 80 Million To 'Scout' Huskers

By NORRIS ANDERSON
Sports Editor, The Star

An "if" was sounded Thursday in regard to Nebraska's football scheme for a-team-a-quarter, a la Biff Jones.

Coach J. William Glassford, the Cornhusker gridmaster, paused amidst a final play-polishing session before the Oregon opener Saturday and remarked:

George Gohde

"Whether we use a new team at the start of a quarter depends on how we are doing at the end of the first quarter."

Since the unlimited substitution rule was given an NCAA burial, Glassford has been tinkering with the idea of fielding a fresh team for each quarter. For this purpose, two complete teams would be fed and quartered.

Possibly Uncle Bill took one glance at the Oregon biceps stepping off the chartered plane Thursday and made his decision to wait until the second quarter. If the Huskers brandish a two-touchdown lead (which is unlikely), the No. 2 unit would start the second period.

Otherwise, Bill is expected to depend on his starting lineup except at particular positions. He will lead off with Ralph Weddle and Bill Schabacker, ends; Ted Conner and Jerry Minnick, tackles; Don Glantz and Charley Bryant, guards; Jim Oliver, center; George Gohde, quarterback; John Bordogna, tailback; Bob Smith, wingback, and Jim Yeisley, fullback.

Carrying a special heavy load, according to Glassford, will be Gohde, Bordogna, Yeisley, Fullback Ray Novak and Tailback Rex Fischer.

Novak and Fischer are expected to share time with Bordogna and Yeisley.

"You can sum it up best, however, by saying we're going to lean heavily on the entire group," Glassford added.

Asked who would be scouting his team Saturday, Glassford quipped: "There will be 80 million of them!"

This brought The Star around to a conversation with jolly Warren Jollymore, an advance tub-thumper for the sponsor of the nationally-televised game which Mel Allen will voice.

Jolymore says the first team to take the field in Memorial Stadium Saturday afternoon will be neither the Huskers or the Webfeet.

Preceding both football teams onto the gridiron is a team of NBC television cameramen, producers, and commentators ready to transmit every bit of game action to millions of American television fans who will be tuning in on the TV Game of the Week.

While it is the important intersectional grid battle between Nebraska and Oregon that draw national attention, it is the team of NBC television experts that will bring the first football thrills of 1953 to more persons than ever before watched a college football game.

It was some six weeks ago that Jack Dillon, of NBC's New York sports staff, and Frank Whittam, of the network's Cleveland office, visited Lincoln to survey the situation for the nationwide telecast. George "Potsy" Clark, Nebraska athletic director, and John Bently, Cornhusker sports publicity man, met with the two network representatives to analyze the situation.

After several days of study, Dillon wired back to his New York office: "I see no difficult problems in arranging for televising the Nebraska-Oregon game."

That declaration might easily go down as the understatement of 1953.

Since that message was sent from Lincoln to New York, here is what has been accomplished so that football fans the country over can watch the game:

Four special television cameras have been moved into Memorial Stadium; one on the 45-yard-line atop the west side of the stadium, another 15 yards south on the 40-yard-line, the third on a platform behind the bleachers on the south end of the field, and the fourth under the southwest side of the stadium.

Nine hundred feet of cable has been laid down for the four cameras.

Arrangements for power supply have been made with the University of Nebraska and the Consumers District Power (220 volts, 100 amps. single phase.)

A platform for camera No. 2 has been constructed and a cradle has been built and suspended from a press box broadcasting booth to house monitors for Mel Allen, NBC-TV play-by-play announcer, and Lindsey Nelson, network sportscaster who will handle color for the telecast.

A portable microwave relay has been set up, along with other necessary facilities.

A mobile unit (all the way from Cleveland) has been set up at the stadium. This unit includes a control booth and other video equipment necessary to nationally telecast the game.

Special telephone lines have been set up between the announcers booth, the four camera locations, and the mobile unit so that all persons on the telecast team can keep in constant touch with one another and send the most exciting account of the game into homes throughout America.

Like any big show—and the telecast will be a big show—there must be a rehearsal. Today, Mel Allen, Lindsey Nelson, Bill Garden, all the cameramen, monitors, producers, directors, technicians—the whole team—will assemble at Memorial Stadium to go through the act in advance to make sure that all is in readiness to bring the first big game of the 1953 season to football fans everywhere as the General Motors TV Game of the Week.

And you think Glassford has troubles!

Oregon Has Mr. Gaffney

And Nebraska Has Mr. Smith

Northwest Missouri Here Tonight

Wesleyan Ready For First Home Tilt

The Plainsmen from Wesleyan who have proved that they are a stout-hearted offensive outfit, but are still a question mark as far as defense is concerned, will be host to Northwest Missouri State College Bearcats in O. N. Magee Memorial stadium Friday night.

Roy Robertson

The kickoff for the first home game for Wesleyan will be 8 p.m. It will be the second game of the season for Wesleyan.

The game will mark the opener for Coach Ryland Milner's veteran studded outfit who last year ran up a 6-3 win, loss mark in the tough Missouri Intercollegiate Athletic Association while sharing a crown with Kirksville Teachers.

Coach Roy Robertson still moaned the lack of defensive finesse as he wrapped up practice sessions with a scrimmage Wednesday afternoon.

"We simply haven't reached the peak of our defensive potential," he said Thursday. "Our boys are still making the little mistakes which can permit the opponent to spring a back loose on a long scoring jaunt."

Robertson named Sanford Nelson, a burly 200 pound junior fullback to serve as game captain along with regular pilot Gordon Marts, the Nebraska City end.

He said his attack tonight will vary but little from that of a week ago when the Plainsmen stayed on the ground for a total of 320 offensive yards against Buena Vista college at Storm Lake, Ia.

The Bearcats, 35 strong, will arrive in Lincoln from Maryville, Mo., late this afternoon. Coach Milner, a veteran himself of 17 years standing at the Missouri school, will have 17 lettermen including seven starters from last fall, on his squad.

The visitors will boast a substantial weight advantage over the Plainsmen, particularly in the line where the starting figures show a 203 pound average for the visitors against a 181 average for the Plainsmen. The Wesleyan backs (184) will hold a slight advantage over the opponents (177).

The probable starters:

Links, College View Hosts; Rockets Gone

GAMES THIS WEEK
Friday
North Platte ..... at Lincoln High (7:30)
Plattsmouth ..... at College View (7:30)
Northeast ..... at Beatrice (8 p.m.)
Saturday
Grand Island St. Mary's at Cathedral (8 p.m.)

By RON GIBSON
Star Sports Staff Member

Ever have the feeling that something happening to you has happened before?

Coaches at four Capital City high schools must have about that feeling today as the second round of football action for their teams is in the offing.

All of the teams are in the some situation as they were before their openers, with one exception. They all have one game under their belts and have been scouted by this week's opponents.

Lincoln High and College View are at home tonight; Northeast travels to Beatrice. Cathedral plays at home Saturday night. That's the way the schedule stacked up last week.

The North Platte-Lincoln High game promises to be at least as interesting as the show the Links and Omaha Central put on last Friday night. North Platte beat Kearney 14-9 last week but had to come from behind by capitalizing on Kearney mistakes.

Roscoe Tolly's Platters were paced by veteran Back Don Fitzgerald and the passing combination of Quarterback Harry Tolly and End Dick Bailar. Bulldog line standouts were Guards Bob Hinman and Art Gunlicks, and Center Keith Stubbs.

A good defensive showing in the middle of the line might stall the Links, who hit that spot often in the Omaha Central game.

Tolly's aerials could mean trouble for Lincoln, but Bill Pfeiff and Ed Schwartzkopf have been drilling the Links on pass defense this week. Passes paved the way for both Omaha Central touchdowns.

In addition to a shaky pass defense, the Links have other troubles. Norm Ford, who played an outstanding end game against Central, is out with a broken collar bone. Even with all these troubles, the Links get the nod tonight.

Bun Galloway's Northeast Rockets, possessors of a 20-12 win over Nebraska City, will be favored for the second week in a row when they play Beatrice.

The Orangemen are supposed to be a year away. The squad is made up of a raft of juniors and sophomores and only five seniors, all lettermen.

Beatrice lost its initial game under new coach Chick Knight last week. Back Jerry Rotzin was the sparkplug as the Orangemen lost a 25-6 decision to Falls City.

The Rockets showed a versatile air and ground attack in their opener at Nebraska City and should be too much for the undermanned Beatrice team.

College View, first victim of a Blair powerhouse last week, faces another Ak-Sar-Ben Conference toughie in Plattsmouth. The Blue Devils took advantage of their opponents' fumbles to score an 18-0 win over Auburn last Friday.

Plattsmouth was sparked by a good defense and triple-threat Back Jim Graves. Coach Tom Gillaspie's Viewmen may have to rely on an aerial attack, their offensive strong-point, to stop the hard-rushing Blue Devils.

Cathedral plays lone wolf again, hosting Grand Island St. Mary's at College View field Saturday. While Vince Aldrich's Bluebirds beat Syracuse 25-20 last Friday, the GI crew was absorbing a 23-6 defeat from Omaha Holy Name.

Some offensive mistakes put St. Mary's in the hole, giving Holy opportunities to score. The bright spot for St. Mary's was the running of Fullback Silver Swoboda, who personally accounted for almost half of the 137 yards his team gained.

The Third City team outgained Holy Name by 12 yards and could prove tough in a tight ball game, but Cathedral again gets the nod.

Webs Late

Delayed by a low overhead in Cheyenne, Wyo., the Oregon football squad was two hours late in arriving at the Lincoln Municipal Airport.

Upon arrival with his squad at 11:30 Thursday night, Coach Len Casanova commented: "We are in good physical condition with no injuries. We have the greatest respect for Nebraska as a team and for Bill Glassford as a coach. If we can throw a lot, we may be in the game."

The Webs were to work out at 3 o'clock today, an hour before the Huskers took their exercise. After a brief drill, the Nebraska squad will adjourn to its overnight quarters at Ag College.

Maher Plugs Pre-Season Western League Playoffs

The general manager of the Lincoln Chiefs, Johnny Maher, declared Thursday that the Shaughnessy play-offs, while a boon to baseball in pre-war years when they were vitally needed, have lost their popularity and must be replaced by something new that will meet with the approval of the fans.

Maher pointed out that the minor leagues are handicapped by bad weather early in the season. Also, the teams that annually run into difficulty are those at or near the bottom in the standings. Those clubs in the second division are the ones the post-season playoffs have been helping and are the ones that will continue to need some sort of an additional boost.

The Chiefs' general manager suggested that a pre-season play-off and financial awards to the players of the first division clubs and to the first four clubs from an attendance standpoint figured in proportion to their population might be a solution.

Taking the Western League as an example, the regular season would start 10 days later but would be preceded by a play-off of 10 days duration. The four eastern teams of the league would be doing likewise. Then the winners in these two series would have three days to determine the pre-season winner.

What if bad weather spoiled these play-offs? Well, you're still better off than if your season had started. Your players aren't yet on salaries so you're only out expenses instead of expenses and salaries.

The gross receipts of these games would be split three ways equally—each club getting a third. In the event any of the eight clubs failed to reach $1,750 for the players pool share, it would be required to make up the difference in order that $14,000 would be a minimum available to assure the team finishing first in the regular season at least $5,000; second place, $4,000; third place, $3,000, and fourth place, $2,000.

In order to provide a financial reward for the attendance winners, one cent could be paid to a league fund on each admission from the regular season play to be awarded proportionately to the first four teams on attendance basis using city population as a base figure. Why give it on attendance based on city population instead of on total population figures? Because we're trying to help the teams that need it and, to cite an example, if Denver would draw 300,000 they wouldn't need the purse so much as Lincoln which drew 100,000.

The All-Star game on an annual basis would still have its place, the proceeds split equally between the players' pool and attendance pool.

The season could start 10 days later and end about five days later. Instead of Shaughnessy play-offs, there would still be time for inter-league playoffs when desired.

Oddly enough the Shaughnessy playoffs were started in baseball by Frank Shaughnessy, president of the International League and a graduate of Notre Dame. Maher is also a Notre Dame grad.

End Flies To Lincoln

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Emery Barnes, University of Oregon football team captain, attended funeral services Thursday for his infant daughter.

The 6 foot 7 inch Negro end will take a plane Thursday night for Lincoln, Nebr., where he will join the squad for Saturday's game with the University of Nebraska. The rest of the squad left by plane this morning.

The child died Wednesday. Coach Len Casanova left the decision up to Barnes whether he should play in the game. Both Barnes and his wife agreed that he should play. Barnes was married in Portland the day after the Nebraska game a year ago.

Glenn McQuillen Given Release

Lincoln Chief General Manager Johnny Maher said Thursday that Right Fielder Glenn McQuillen has been unconditionally released.

Jack Caro, the Chiefs' shortstop, has been recalled by Toledo and Joe Rivich by Little Rock. Maher also expects Norman (Buzz) Bell to get his papers from Indianapolis and Sam Suplizio from Binghamton.

G.I.-North Tops State

A game that might eventually decide the 1953 state high school football championship rates top billing on tonight's prep schedule.

Grand Island is host to Omaha North tonight. Both elevens are rated as the teams to beat in their leagues, the Big Ten and the Omaha Inter-City loop.

It will be the first test for Carol Gast's North Vikings. Grand Island beat Curtis, 40-0, last week. The winner of the game will have passed its biggest hurdle enroute to the state title.

Hastings and Kearney tangle in an inter-division Big Ten scrap, as do Columbus and Lexington. Scottsbluff hosts Fort Collins, Colo., and North Platte is at Lincoln High. Northeast journeys to Beatrice.

The Firing Line

Strictly From An Untried Crystal Ball

If the proof of the pudding is in the eating, what happens when there is no available pudding?

That's the dificulty with forecasting college football games that start as early as Sept. 19. Personally, we're still seeing various chaps sliding into second.

There is no criteria on which to judge the teams, especially since the demise of th platoon system. About all you can do is scan the number of available lettermen, multiply by the group of bright new sophs and divide by the number of cobwebs between the coach's ears.

With no one knowing much, the way to distinguish as a perfect "know-nothing" is perhaps to try soothseeing at this very early date, thus:

Nebraska 13, Oregon 7—Too much power in the Husker backfield. Nebraska to grind this one out in short stabs with considerable dependance on ball control. Oregon's passing might be dangerous, if the Webs are allowed too much possession.

Kansas 7, Texas Christian 6—Mix two unknown backfields and two experienced lines and you get a low-scoring game. Expedient use of the forward pass, of course, could cause a rash of scoring.

UCLA 39, Oregon State 0—A mild zephyr, not even a breeze.

Uclans are Rose Bowl-bound, Mister.

Florida 21, Rice 14—Depends if Florida's great fullback, Rick Casares is recovered from injuries. If not, reverse the prediction.

Alabama 27, Missouri Southern 0—We'll dedicate this one to that solid son of old Alabama, Col. Mel (White Owl) Allen, who is here to nationally televise the Nebraska-Oregon game. This one's on the house, Mel.

Kansas State 20, Drake 7—Wildcats, backed by a great all-round back in Veryl Switzer, are vastly benefited by elimination of the platoon system.

California 14, Baylor 13—Given any segment of luck, our old friend George Sauer's Bears might take this one. They're growling and burly.

Maryland 21, Missouri 14—Mizzou may be surprise of the Big Seven. They say Uncle Don Faurot has the hosses and the yen for non-platoon football.

Washington 14, Colorado 7—Depends on whether the Buffs can make Carroll Hardy offset the losses of such backs as Woody Shelton and Zack Jordan.

Villanova 34, Georgia 27—Filipski wins over Bratkowski.

Duke 33, South Carolina 6—Too much worth in Lutz.

Kentucky 20, Texas Aggies 7—Chap named Meilinger is the difference.

Georgia Tech 48, Davidson 0—Engineers and Notre Dame should top the nation, along with Michigan State and UCLA.

Southern Cal 27, Washington State 7—Easy does it.

Iowa State 20, South Dakota 13—Survival of the unfittest.

Overhauling the NEWS

WALLY DeBROWN

Rosie the Riveter got more publicity than a beauty queen during World War II . . . but just because you haven't heard much about her lately doesn't mean she's gone back to her knitting. Today 135,000 women are still putting airplanes together . . . and picking up an annual paycheck of $572,000,000. You can't very well call the girls flighty at that figure.

Another 20,000 are employed by scheduled airlines, and 18,000 are keeping 'em flying in the military services. Many thousands more are in various other flight jobs in airports, travel agencies, etc. The air age has certainly pulled the kitchen mechanics away from the hot stove and the cold potato salads. Looks like Rosie has definitely riveted a new career for herself.

A man in London, England, charged with keeping a horse in his boarding-house, told judge, "I was lonely." Well, a horse does have a stabilizing influence. Mills To Take Over For Rajah As Reds Oust Pilot

By CLAUDE WOLFF

CINCINNATI (AP) — Rogers Hornsby, a blunt and rugged individualist, was ousted again Thursday as a big league manager.

He was fired from the Cincinnati Redlegs by General Manager Gabe Paul, who gave no reason for his action. His contract would have expired Dec. 31.

Buster Mills, a coach, will handle the team the rest of the season. Meanwhile, Paul said he would be looking for a new manager—one who has had experience along that line.

Paul said there was no friction with Hornsby. The Rajah veered away from that angle when talking to a reporter.

"I've had a lot of jobs and I'll have a lot more," he said. He expressed belief that he had done a good job here.

Redleg officials are known to be disappointed because Hornsby—greatest righthanded hitter baseball has known, and a member of the game's Hall of Fame—did not lift the club higher than sixth place in the National League.

Hornsby rode into Cincinnati last July after being fired a short time earlier as manager of the St. Louis Browns of the American League.

Some of the St. Louis players celebrated his dismissal with shouts of joy and wonderful denunciation. Hornsby blamed front office interference with his command on the playing field.

He succeeded Luke Sewell in Cincinnati, when the team was in sixth place in the pennant race. After Hornsby took charge, the club won 27 games and lost 24.

General Manager Paul said Hornsby asked him on Tuesday about his status for the 1954 season.

Capital City Coaches Get Weep Wipers

An experiment at the Sertoma Club luncheon Thursday proved beyond the shadow of a doubt that no football coach can talk about his season prospects long without injecting a note of pessimism. As each of the four Lincoln high school football coaches started to moan a bit on discussing his own team, a club members tossed the coach a crying towel. It didn't take long for any of the coaches to win one of the tear-textiles. Seated are Vince Aldrich of Cathedral (left) and Bill Pfeiff of Lincoln High. Littler Paces Amateur Golfers Into Semi-Finals

By WILL GRIMSLEY

OKLOHOMA CITY (AP) — A Navy airman on leave, a fidgety ex-pro and two brash college boys shot their way Thursday into the "who's that?" semi-final of the 53rd National Amateur Golf Championship.

The serviceman, Gene Littler of La Jolla, Calif., lone remnant of the U.S. Walker Cup team, quickly was established as the one most likely to go all the way in this tournament, stripped of the proudest names in American and British Golf.

Here is the cast of characters for Friday's 36-hole semi-final:

Littler, 23, stationed at the Naval Air Base in San Diego, former San Diego State College athlete, quarterfinalist a year ago and playing the best golf of the field.

Dale Morey, 32, of Indianapolis, nervous as a worm on a cook stove, former professional, now a sandpaper salesman and holder of the Western Amateur crown.

Don Albert, 21, strapping six-foot-two, 185-pound Purdue University junior, oldest of 12 children of an Alliance, Ohio, clothing store worker. The Big Ten conference golf champion.

Bruce Cudd, 20, of Portland, Ore., tall, swarthy student at Portland University, playing in his first National Amateur.

Friday Albert meets Morey and Littler faces Cudd in two rounds over the 6,852-yard, par 71 Oklahoma city golf and Country Club Course.

The 36-hole championship round will be played Saturday.

This quartet survived a whirlwind series of upsets which saw five former champions, including Defender Jack Westland, eight U.S. and four British Walker Cup stars eliminated.

N.Y., Eagles Upset Exhibition Rivals

By The Associated Press

The Philadelphia Eagles and the New York Giants upset two top-flight National Football League opponents Thursday night, the Eagles dumping the Detroit Lions and the Giants beating San Francisco.

Slim Adrian Burke pitched three touchdown passes to lead the underdog Eagles to a 28-17 upset over Detroit, the first defeat for the National Football League champions in their last 11 games. A crowd of 44,300 saw the two pro teams in their final warmup game before opening the 1953 NFL season two weeks hence.

The New York Giants narrowly averted dissipating a four-touchdown lead in the final period, escaping with a 28-21 victory over the San Francisco 49-ers.

Don Bollweg, rookie first baseman with the New York Yankees, hails from Wheaton, Ill. That's also the home town of Harold (Red) Grange, one time football sensation for the University of Illinois and Chicago Bears.

Committees Are Named To Study Special Election Proposals

By BILL DOBLER
Star Staff Writer

Committees of city officials and City Council members have been appointed to give study to eight possible proposals for what promises to be one of the liveliest special elections in the history of Lincoln.

At least four of the proposals are sure to draw fire from various quarters. Two of them, the auditorium and fluoridation, have been under public fire many times before.

Another proposal which may end up in a battle is one giving the city the right to cut obstructions on private property where traffic hazards are involved. While this proposal is aimed at eliminating such things as hedges which block motorists' views at intersections, it could be of much more far reaching importance.

$500 Limit

A fourth possible proposal is one to change the $500 limit on purchases by the city without advertising for bids. The thought would be to raise that limit.

According to City Finance Director Theo Berg, the $500 limit was placed in the charter in 1907 and is now too low. Berg stated that it would take $1,295 to buy today what $500 would buy in 1913.

With the $500 limit, said Berg, the city is definitely handicapped at times in the purchase of small articles.

Other possible proposals for a special election ballot are:

Granting the city authority to purchase land for the establishment of off-street parking lots. The off-street parking committee is composed of Councilman Joseph Fenton and Chauncey W. D. Kinsey.

Granting the city authority to issue general obligation bonds (total amount as yet undetermined but estimated at $2 million) for the construction of storm sewers throughout the city. The storm sewer committee is composed of Councilmen Hugh Thorne, Kinsey and City Engineer D. L. Erickson.

A lowering of the interest rates charged on the unpaid balance of special assessments. The special assessments committee is composed of Councilmen Pat Ash and Rees Wilkinson and Berg.

Charter Group

A group of various proposals for the modernization of certain sections of the city charter. Charter modernization committee is composed of Berg, City Attorney John H. Comstock and City Councilwoman Mrs. Fern Hubbard Orme.

The auditorium committee is composed of Ash, Berg and Thorne. If submitted, the auditorium proposal would be one calling for the repeal of all existing auditorium provisions, the payment of all outstanding auditorium bonds and the placing of money left over in a special auditorium fund to be established later or in the city's general fund.

Such a proposal has been requested for a special election through a petition from qualified voters. The auditorium matter will probably determine the date of the proposed special election.

City officials are still awaiting the final disposition of a suit against the city in which the city is asked to show cause why it has not proceeded with construction of an auditorium as ordered earlier by the Supreme Court at 15th and M.

No Further Relief

The District Court has found in that suit that the city has acted toward construction of an auditorium and plaintiffs were entitled to no further relief. There is the expectation, however, that the case will be appealed and will include a settlement of whether the City Council can honor the petitions for a special election or not.

Mayor Clark Jeary has stated he hopes the auditorium question can be settled by late this fall and the special election called.

Other city committees are:

For authority by the city to cut obstructions on private property, Mrs. Orme and Comstock.

For a change in the $500 purchase law, Fenton, Thorne and Berg.

For the fluoridation of the city's water supply, Orme and Wilkinson.

GET YOURS SOON... If you have not already obtained your desired quantities of COLORADO PEACHES, do so without delay.

Avoid possible disappointment by ordering from your Grocer or Fruit Dealer at once. The supply of these popular Mountain-Grown Peaches is always limited; this year the crop in Mesa County—Colorado's main Peach producing area—is only 75 percent of normal volume and the demand has been especially heavy. Put up plenty of COLORADO PEACHES. They will come in mighty handy for fall and winter meals—served in many appetizing ways—in salads, desserts, alone or with cereals.

Use them often—while they last—at present meals in fresh fruit dishes.

Meany Hits Ike

Yielding To Business, Head Of AFL Charges

ST. LOUIS (AP) — George Meany, president of the giant American Federation of Labor, fired an angry blast at the Eisenhower administration Thursday and accused the President of yielding to the influence of big business.

Meany

Meany charged Eisenhower "is not strong enough to stand up for his point of view against the people who seem to control the administration in Washington."

The top man of the AFL, an affiliation of 110 unions representing some eight million members or about half the nation's organized workers, said employers "feel they have labor over the barrel."

"We are not going to be shoved around," he shouted.

"The National Association of Manufacturers is in a position of great influence in the government," he said. "They seem to think they can run the administration."

Charles E. Wilson, secretary of defense who resigned as president of General Motors Corp. to join the Eisenhower cabinet, also was a target for some of Meany's remarks.

"We don't take the position of Charlie Wilson," Meany said. "He says what's good for General Motors is good for America. The AFL takes the opposite position. We say what's good for America is good for us."

Among those who heard Meany was Martin P. Durkin, who resigned as secretary of labor last week with a charge that the administration broke an agreement to submit to Congress 19 proposed Taft-Hartley Law amendments.

President Eisenhower told him last November he regarded one provision of the Taft-Hartley act as unfair, Meany continued, and requested the labor leader to talk to the late Sen. Taft (R-Ohio) about changes to make the law fair to both industry and labor.

Meany said he then conferred with Taft on five occasions.

"Sen. Taft was with us 100 per cent," Meany said.

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add three. The result is your key number. Start at are upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

ONE MAN'S OPINION By Walter Kiernan

(Distributed by International News Service)

We are returning Madame Pandit's circular peace plan marked "Opened by Mistake."

☆ ☆ ☆

Kiernan

Nobody ever got a square deal at a round table as proposed by Pundit Pandit and you cannot make a disinterested party of India by seating her clockwise.

☆ ☆ ☆

Red China is all for a round-table of neutrals provided they're neutral on her wheel of fortune and Russia is the axle.

☆ ☆ ☆

But we have seen the U.N. sitting semi-circular and semi-conscious for too long to complete the daisy chain by nodding to the enemy on our left.

☆ ☆ ☆

When two parties in a war meet it should be in glaring position and you cannot outstare a fellow at your elbow.

☆ ☆ ☆

If Madame Pandit is serious about her intentions, let her propose a table with two ends and a neutral strip down the middle for pencils and rejection slips.

Old Russian Abacus Bests Adding Machine

VANCOUVER (AP) — A bookkeeper in a West Vancouver house has a simple adding device which is not conducive to gaining the favor of the adding machine salesman.

In fact, Waldemar Janz showed recently that the modern adding machine is no match for his ancient Russian abacus, which consists of seven horizontal rows of 10 beads. With the aid of his manual calculator, Janz defeated an adding machine in a straight test for speed and accuracy.

At one time Janz used his abacus to compute the payroll for 600 employees in a west coast logging camp. The Lynn Valley resident says his Russian abacus, which is much simpler than the more famous Chinese abacus, "requires almost no mental effort."

In fact, he says: "Anyone with common sense can quickly learn to use it. Speed can be attained very quickly."

Crosby Tour Schedule Set

Gov. Crosby's office Thursday released the schedule he will follow in his tour of state institutions starting late this month.

At the same time he said it was his intention when visiting county seat towns, or passing through them, to stop whenever possible and visit with county officials.

His scheduled stops are:

Sept. 29, Geneva Home and Hastings State Hospital.

Sept. 30, Kearney Tuberculosis Hospital, Boys Industrial Home, Kearney State Teachers College.

Oct. 1, Trenton Dam dedication and appearance before Stratton Commercial Club.

Oct. 2, Grand Island Soldiers Home.

Oct. 6, Milford Trade School, York Reformatory. Stay overnight at Columbus.

Oct. 7, Norfolk State Hospital and Wayne State Teachers College.

Oct. 8, road meeting at Bassett in afternoon, Beatrice State Home in evening and appearance at Highway 3 Association meeting at Beatrice.

Oct. 13, state AFL convention at Scottsbluff in afternoon.

Oct. 14, Chadron State Teachers College and road meeting at Hyannis in afternoon.

Oct. 15, Tri-State Credit Men's meeting at Omaha and Nebraska School for Deaf.

Oct. 20, Medical College at Omaha and volunteer firemen's banquet.

Oct. 21, Rotary Club meeting at Omaha.

Oct. 22, Nebraska School for Blind and Peru State Teachers College.

Projects Planned

NORTH PLATTE, Neb. (AP)—The North Platte City Council may bring two major projects—a $100,000 ball park and another viaduct over the Union Pacific tracks—before the voters soon. oBth would require issuance of bonds to cover construction.

Stocks Rise Some In Quiet Market

NEW YORK (AP)—Stocks advanced haltingly Thursday in a relatively quiet market.

At one time during the day, it looked as though the rise might work itself into something resembling a real rally. But it faltered in the early afternoon and descended from its best to a ragged close.

Thursday's rise makes three successive advances since the market touched a low for the year Monday. Each advance has been less than the preceding one.

After the climactic selling of Friday and Monday, Wall Street looked for a rebound of a technical sort. That is what has happened.

There were few major divisions Thursday without minus signs, but there was no notable concentration.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks advanced 10 cents at $101.40 with the industrial and railroad components of the average up 20 cents each and the utilities unchanged.

Volume came to the unimpressive total of 1,290,000 shares. That compares with 1,570,000 shares Wednesday.

The American Stock Exchange was mixed with trading at 390,000 shares as compared with 500,000 shares traded Wednesday.

Grain Sale Active; Sharp Lard Break

CHICAGO (AP) — A session of active dealings and quick changes in price trends was featured by a late sell off in wheat on the Board of Trade Thursday.

Wheat fell as much as six cents at the height of the liquidating move, but recovered a part of that in the closing minutes. Rye and oats were weak while lard broke sharply on further profit taking following its big price run up in recent weeks.

Wheat closed 2 to 3¾ lower, corn ⅝ lower to 1⅜ higher, oats 1 to 1½ lower, rye 2 to 3½ lower, soybeans ¾ lower to 3¾ higher and lard 35 cents to $1.63 a hundred pounds lower.

Brokers said the main reason for the wheat price break was the overnight action of the Canadian Wheat Board in extending the discounts at which it quotes lower grades of wheat in relation to No. 1 northern in the export market.

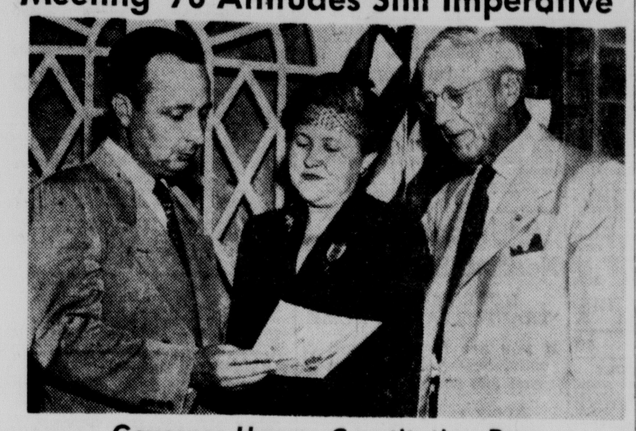
Crosby Tells SAR Constitution Day Meeting '76 Attitudes Still Imperative



Governor Honors Constitution Day

Gov. Robert Crosby (left) addresses the Lincoln chapter of the Sons of the American Revolution at a dinner at the Lincoln Hotel in observance of Constitution Day. To his right are (left to right) Mrs. Kenneth Lawson, president of the Deborah Avery chapter of the DAR, who gave the principal address, and Lowell R. King, president of the state SAR group. (Star Photo.)

Gov. Robert Crosby paused Thursday evening in the middle of his gubernatorial labors to pay homage to nationally-observed Constitution Day.

Addressing the Lincoln chapter of the Sons of the American Revolution, the governor told the audience of 60 that "the attitudes of the revolutionary days must be maintained in the mid-Twentieth Century if the American people are to continue their national heritage."

Mrs. Kenneth Lawson, regent of the Deborah Avery chapter of the DAR, the principal speaker, said, "We of the DAR are trying to project into the present what has been most worthwhile in our past."

The preservation of the observance of Constitution Day must not be undermined, she said, by the designation of the 82nd Congress to make the same day, Sept. 17, Citizenship Day.

Among the members of the SAR attending with their wives were Lowell R. King, president of the Nebraska SAR Society; James Harding, secretary-treasurer of the state group, and Lou Shirk, vice president, also an official of the state SAR.

BUICK

DEALER

Folks who buy used cars from us like and trust us. They know that we're Buick dealers, with a reputation to protect. And they find we take special pains to see that every used-car dollar spent with us buys more.

1 BUICK-INSPECTED—by our own trained mechanics

2 BUICK-RECONDITIONED—for appearance, performance and safety.

3 BUICK DEALER "ALL SQUARE" GUARANTEE—covers car firmly for 30 days.

4 CUSTOMER SATISFACTION—just as if you were purchasing a new car.

Right now's a fine time to get exceptional used-car values, too. Because our 1953 Buicks are selling fast, we're getting a lot of wonderful, late-model trade-ins for you to come and see.

Dulles Urges Russia To Change Policies

. . . 'U.S. Will Do Its Part For Peace'

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles urged the Russians Thursday to change their policies and co-operate for world peace before it is too late.

He told the eighth U.N. assembly in a policy declaration approved by President Eisenhower that the need for new avenues to peace never was so great, since scientists have found means which "can wipe life off the surface of this planet." He obviously was referring to the hydrogen bomb and to atomic weapons.

He pledged that the United States will do its part for peace in the same spirit it asks the Russians to adopt.

Dulles further told the Russians and the world in his address that the United States is not "exhorting revolution' nor inciting others to violence.

Tries To Calm Fears

Some key delegates said Dulles apparently was trying to calm the fears of the Russians and of some American allies that the United States might promote armed revolutions in satellite countries and bring on a World War. Soviet Delegate Andrei Y. Vishinsky will answer Dulles, perhaps late this week.

"Our hope is that the Soviet Communist leader, before it is too late, will recognize that love of God, love of country and sense of human dignity always survive," Dulles said.

He said the world is at a crisis and that mere words by Soviet leaders are not enough to relax tensions. He added:

"Policies which will permit Korea to be united and free; which will allow independence to come peacefully to Indo-China; which will unite Germany and free Austria; which will enable Russia's neighbors to enjoy national independence; which will end the dedication of the Soviet Communist party to the violent overthrow of independent government — such are the policies which would go far to end present tensions."

Boys' Plot To Blow Up Detroit School Fails

DETROIT (INS)—Detroit police Thursday thwarted the plot of two boys, aged 15 and 13, to blow up the Ellis school with a homemade bomb.

The older of the boys, nicknamed "time bomb" by playmates because of a flair for constructing and setting off bombs, blamed his younger companion for failure of their plan. Said the 15-year-old:

"He didn't follow the formula right. I told him how to do it but he messed it all up."

Van Fleet To Head Korean Foundation

NEW YORK (AP)—Gen. James A. Van Fleet, former United Nations commander in Korea, Thursday was appointed chairman of the American-Korean Foundation, Inc.

The foundation thus far has raised $3,500,000 for Korean rehabilitation.

Dahl Infant Dies

The baby daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Dahl, 205 So. 27th, died Wednesday.

Surviving are her parents; a brother, Berry; grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Dahl of Oakland, Calif., and great grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Rowan Saul of San Francisco.

Mrs. Alexander Oxenhardt Dies At 51

Mrs. Alexander Oxenhardt, 51, 1821 So. 11th, a resident of Lincoln all her life, died Thursday.

A member of Frieden's Lutheran Church, Mrs. Oxenhardt was past president of the Park School PTA and a member of the Ladies Auxiliary of the Eagles.

Mrs. Oxenhardt

Surviving are her husband; a daughter, Mrs. Richard Hapka of Milwaukee, Wis.; two sons, Robert of Lincoln and Douglas, at home; her father, John Stroh Sr. of North Hollywood, Calif; two brothers, Adolph Stroh of Whittier, Calif., and John Stroh Jr. of Wilmington, Calif.; three sisters, Mrs. Marie Jensen of Arlington, Neb., Mrs. Al Steinbrecker of North Hollywood, Calif., and Mrs. Lydia Vale of Glendale, Calif., and two grandchildren.

U.S. Airmen Rescue Man Buried In Sand

ERDING, Germany (AP)—American airmen rescued a German worker buried alive for more than 24 hours under 18 feet of sand, gravel and rock, the U. S. Air Force reported Thursday night.

Martin Schwarz, 52, had been trapped by a cave-in at the bottom of a 40-foot excavation Tuesday night when he had been trying to join two water pipes.

Fire-Damaged Bridge Open To Traffic Again

The fire-damaged No. 10th Street bridge over Salt Creek was back in full operation Thursday.

City Engineer D. L. Erickson reported damage was only slight from the Wednesday night fire. Traffic over the bridge was detoured Wednesday night after the fire until the bridge could be inspected in the day light.

Only a few cross beams were damaged, said Erickson, and they will be repaired immediately.

Perfume That Clings

Q.—Dear Penny: I adore perfume, but for some reason or other its fragrance just does not last on me. I have told several of my friends that I want a new perfume, but first I must find out about a lasting one.—Mrs. A. W.

A.—A particularly good idea for women who claim that perfume does not "stay with them" is a Liquid Skin .Sachet. It smooths on the skin very easily, and lingers longer because of its sachet base. It has a slower rate of diffusion and evaporation than any other type of fragrance. Try this Houbigant Chantilly Liquid Skin Sachet. Only $1.85 plus tax at better stores.
